French Premier Arrives For Visit With President

GIVEN ROYAL WELCOME AS BOAT DOCKS

Secretary Stimson Present At Official Greeting in New York Reception THOUSANDS PRESENT

Noted Visitor Outlines in General Terms Purpose of Visit to Washington

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Premier Laval of France arrived today to confer with President Hoover on joint action by the United States to re-establish the equilibrium of the world in the present economic crisis.

Laval was taken from the liner Ile de France and paraded to the city hall, where he was given America's official greeting, and in reply outlined in strictly general terms the purpose of his visit, without going into the details of the subjects he will discuss at Washington, such as war debts, reparations or disarmament.

"France was deeply touched when President Hoover invited me to visit him," Laval said. "She realized that this gesture is not alone the expression of an old and tried friendship between our great democracies, but that the American government had turned to her because in the midst of a widespread disturbance, she remained sound."

Laval and the official French party, including his daughter, Josette, arrived at quarantine in New York harbor early in the morning. The greeting party boarded the Ile de France and mounted to the grand salon, where Laval and his daughter awaited them.

The party then boarded the Macon and it steamed to the battery to the booming of guns from Governor's Island, salutes from the craft in the harbor and an aquatic display by fireboats.

At the battery, an official reception committee headed by Secretary Stimson greeted the party, which paraded to the city hall along the canyon of lower Broadway, escorted by mounted police.

Soldiers, sailors and marines were drawn up in the plaza of the city hall, where a fanfare of trumpets announced the party's arrival. A crowd of several thousand surrounded the park.

The official reception was held in the aldermanic chamber before an audience of 1,200 to 1,500, many of whom had to stand.

Secretary Stimson thanked Mayor Walker on behalf of the federal government for the reception and praised Walker's efforts, even to the extent of having sunshine for the occasion.

Mayor Walker explained laughingly that the gorgeous sunshine had been imported from the south of France.

In his reply to the welcome, Laval confined himself to the general purpose of his visit and the intention of France to co-operate with the United States.

TAX ON LUXURY ARTICLES MAY PASS CONGRESS

Administration Considers Plan to Make Up Loss on Income Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—(UP)—The Hoover administration is considering a "selective" sales tax program, which would include a tax on luxury articles, as a means of building up the revenue base depleted by falling income tax collections.

While final decision has not been reached as to recommendations to be made to congress, it was indicated today that officials have about come to the conclusion that a tax increase will be necessary.

Among the articles being considered as subject for a sales tax are automobiles, radio sets, gasoline, matches, theater admission and such articles as were subject to the so-called "luxury taxes" levied during the world war.

The most absolute necessity of increasing tax schedules was revealed today in treasury figures showing that the deficit has mounted to the enormous total of $617,575,720, which indicated a deficit at the end of the present fiscal year approaching the $2,000,000,000 mark.

The administration is opposed, it was learned today, to any noticeable increase on surtax rates, officials taking the position that taxes there are heavy enough now in view of depressed business, and that additional levies would bring in no substantial additional revenues.

The automobile tax was defended by administration officials as logical, in view of the huge sums of money the states and the government are spending to keep highways.

Officials explained in arguing for a selective sales tax, that the government now has a sales tax on tobacco, and that states have a sales tax in the gasoline levies.

PORTERVILLE, Calif., Oct. 22.—(UP)—C. R. Oglesby, former city councilman who disappeared in San Francisco a week ago, today was sought on a warrant charging $1400 embezzlements. C. F. Lancaster, San Joaquin valley securities corporation, signed the complaint yesterday after asserting uncovering numerous automobile sales contracts, the money for which had not been received by the firm.

C. F. Lancaster, San Joaquin valley securities corporation representative, signed the complaint against Oglesby after asserting uncovering numerous irregular automobile sales contracts, allegedly representing $1400 in losses to his firm.

Investigators said at least three other finance companies may have suffered similar losses and indicated they believed the total shortages might reach $50,000.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley was to leave for Tulsa, Okla., in an army transport plane today after a brief stop here, during which he was the guest of Will Rogers, actor and writer, at the Rogers ranch.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 22. [To the Editor of The Register:] I can't answer all the telegrams and letters, but I want to take this means of thanking the most people that ever wired or wrote me on anything—my little speech over the radio for the unemployed—and will send them copies as soon as I can think of what I said. Dozens of Community Chests want to use it as an ad. Sorry it wasn't the usual "hokey" on the subject, for some paper would have published it and saved me all the trouble. What made me feel kinder proud was that while I got after the "big men" yet it was the big men that sent me the fine wires. Mr. Gifford, head of American T. and T.; Owen D. Young said "It was the best speech ever would be made on the subject." Edsel Ford wants a copy for his father, not forgetting Senator Borah. I am going over to the flying field to get my good friend Pat Hurley—going to try and make him stay all night with me.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

MEXICO TODAY UNDER CABINET OF GEN. CALLES

Manuel Tellez, Former Ambassador to U. S. Named Interior Minister

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22.—(UP)—President Pascual Ortiz Rubio had formed a new cabinet today built around Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles as minister of war and including Manuel C. Tellez as minister of interior.

Tellez, recently recalled as ambassador to Washington, holds the chief cabinet post in the new government. In the event of the president's death, incapacity, or removal from office, the minister of interior assumes the presidency.

Mexico has no vice president. Tellez' appointment proved that he retained the confidence of Calles, with whom he has been very close for years.

Luis Montes de Oca was retained

MODESTO, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Earl A. Woodbridge, 15, sophomore in the Modesto high school, was dead today, a suicide victim because of despondency over poor grades in public speaking.

WAGE CUTS TO BE SUBJECT AT RAILROAD MEET

Heads of Nations Roads in Atlantic City Today For Conferences

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 22. (UP)—Wage cuts for railroad workers and strenuous opposition to the interstate commerce commission's plan for aid for distressed railroad companies, appeared today as subjects for consideration by controlling officials of the nation's railroads meeting here.

While the program calls for consideration of the "absolute necessity of further reductions in operating costs," wage cuts are seen as the "meat" of the discussion. The carriers have cut all other expenses as far as possible; now if they must reduce costs still further, wages must suffer, it was believed.

Wage reduction is a ticklish subject with railroad men. As one who refused to allow his name to be used, said: "I'd rather jump into the ocean 500 miles from land than talk wage reductions. It's the worst sort of dynamite."

He expressed the view that the railroad brotherhoods apparently fail to realize that their future is tied up with that of the railroad companies. "I don't say that the position of the brotherhoods is indefensible," he said, "at any time I would be in thorough sympathy; but the interstate commerce commission has offered no aid whatsoever. It has been blind to the real crisis and it has left the railroads no alternative, if they must save themselves."

Outside of wage reductions, the carriers' one hope of salvation lies in President Hoover, the executive stated. "There's been much talk of a plan he is formulating to aid us," he said, "but personally I haven't a great deal of faith."

Informally, executives were talking among themselves before opening of the two-day conference today, of what sort of definite plan for wage reduction might be adopted. One plan discussed involved cancellation of contracts with the brotherhoods under the 30-day clause, which would bring the question to a head quickly. A second plan was for appointment of a committee to negotiate with the brotherhoods for voluntary acceptance of a wage cut for a limited time.

LIGHTS OF NATION DIMMED FOR EDISON

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Millions of flashing, blinking lights from Broadway of New York to the Golden Gate at San Francisco were turned down last night in memory of Thomas A. Edison.

It was as if some giant hand had quenched in a single stroke virtually all illumination, harking back to the days of gas light more than 52 years ago—before Edison's experiments with filaments had brought forth the incandescent bulb.

The Light Liberty holds aloft in New York harbor went dark for a minute as did the beacon atop the Empire State building.

'ARTIFICIAL LUNG' SAVES LIFE OF LAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Science in the form of an "artificial lung" brought new hope today for the life of three-year-old Lester Webber, infantile paralysis patient who braved an airplane ride in a vain attempt to save another's life.

End Of Hunt For Slayer Near, Claim

Mrs. Winnie Judd, Sought in Connection with Killings, Eludes Police

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, 27, accused of murdering two girls in Phoenix and shipping their bodies here, will be arrested soon, harassed local officers predicted today.

After 60 hours of futile searching police said they felt the end of the hunt was near and that the fugitive, accused of having slain Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes LeROI, would be taken in Los Angeles.

Dr. Lt. Joe Filkas, of the police homicide squad, and Detective Inspector David Davidson both said they expected results soon but refused to reveal what information led to the predictions.

"Mrs. Judd is hiding right here in the city," Filkas said. "I expect we'll get her soon."

"We are convinced she is in or near Los Angeles," Inspector Davidson said; "she couldn't have gone far without money or change of clothing. We will pick her up directly."

The knowledge that three nights and two days of police work was without result, led officials to adjust their estimate of Mrs. Judd and to refer to her as a "clever, ingenious woman with no nerves."

Aware that she was slight, in ill health and almost penniless, officers promised her early arrest when she first was accused of the slayings Monday night.

Today, having traced down every tip and clue turned up in the two states, police officers agreed with Mrs. Judd's brother, B. J. McKinnell, a student at the University of Southern California.

"My sister is clever," McKinnell said, "and she has more nerve and self control than any woman I know. If she met a policeman right now she could look him straight in the eye and not give anything away."

These characteristics, it was admitted, were evident in every development.

Having shot Miss Samuelson and Mrs. LeROI, the slayer, said by police to be Mrs. Judd, attempted to have their bodies removed from their apartment to the railroad station in one trunk.

According to police reconstruction of the crime, Mrs. Judd, advised that there would be an overcharge for the weight of the trunk and fearful that this might in some way lead to detection, had the trunk removed to her own apartment where the body of Miss Samuelson was desecrated.

IOWA FARMERS AND GUARDS PITCH CAMPS AND PREPARE FOR CATTLE TESTING 'WAR'

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Iowa farmers and Iowa soldiers rallied today at two camps in preparation for a cattle testing "war" that promised to be one of the most unusual "conflicts" on record.

The two encampments were only a few miles apart, one at the county fair grounds and the other on the farm of Jake Evertman, a leader among the farmers who rebelled against the state's new method of testing cattle for tuberculosis.

There seemed little chance the armies would meet before Friday and what might happen when they did was problematical. Evertman's followers carried no guns. He ordered them not to. The soldiers sent by the state to enforce the testing law, were fully armed for battle.

While the farm leader Evertman, insisted that his supporters were unarmed, leaders of the state force declared they knew that some of the resisters carried guns.

It was reported that opponents of the test planned to station sharpshooters on the lookout hill near their farm camp when the National Guard began its advance. In any event, leaders of the state forces felt that the uprising in Des Moines county, which will be the third county to be tested under military protection, was likely to prove more serious than any previous resistance.

The army of farmers began to gather when word spread that state veterinarians would visit Evertman's farm this week and test his cattle whether he liked it or not. Like other farmers, Evertman protested against the tests because he believes they are injurious to the cattle.

All day yesterday and last night automobiles streamed to the Evertman farm. Parking space was furnished in the big front yard and nearby fields.

Officials at Des Moines heard of the defensive moves being made at Evertman's and called out the National Guards to protect the veterinarians.

BIG DIRIGIBLE COL. LINDBERGH ARRIVES TODAY AND WIFE FLY AT LAKEHURST ACROSS NATION

Moored at Future Quarters After All Night Trip From Akron, Ohio

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 22.—(UP)—The navy dirigible Akron nosed down toward the Lakehurst mooring mast for a landing today at 6:10 o'clock after an all night flight from Akron, O.

The new dirigible, the world's largest lighter than air craft first swung over the navy reservation at 2:10 a. m., then circled over the hangar where her smaller sister ship, the Los Angeles, was berthed.

With her red and green lights blinking at about 2000 feet altitude, the air liner cruised over the field and nearby points during the remainder of the night before again appearing directly over the landing field at 5:40 a. m., prepared to nose down.

There was no excitement among the members of the ground crew and naval officials over the Akron's arrival; she had been tested, they said, and that was that.

Two hundred newspapermen, photographers and motion picture cameramen were on the ground. They had been there since midnight but were not admitted to the reservation proper until after 5 a. m.

A light mist was rising from the field as the Akron moored fast at 6:14 without mishap, cameras and sound apparatus grinding out a permanent visible and audible record of the event.

The dirigible left the airfield at Akron yesterday after its acceptance by the U. S. navy from the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation which contracted to build the $5,000,000 air cruiser.

She has a capacity of 6,500,000 cubic feet of helium gas, is 785 feet long, and 132 feet in diameter. She is equipped with eight motors and can climb 4000 feet a minute. The Akron's top speed is 84 miles an hour, her cruising speed 60 miles an hour, and her cruising range is 11,000 miles.

Famous Fliers Arrive at Victoria from Japan and Board Plane

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 22.—(UP)—Col. Charles Lindbergh and his air-minded wife swooped down out of a sudden, overcast sky and landed at Nampa, Ida., according to a report received here today.

It was their second stop since their take off from Victoria, B. C., early today en route for New York. The first was Seattle.

—Flying the last, sad leg of what started out to be a happy vacation tour, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were winging their way to New York today.

Their first stop after leaving here at 6:30 a. m., was to have been Boise, Ida., and the next Omaha, which was to be an overnight stop. An unscheduled landing was made at Seattle at 7:08 a. m.

The weather which the famous pair will fly through in the first part of their voyage was the worst the Pacific Northwest has experienced this year, with gales blowing up to 60 miles an hour at times, and heavy rain and low clouds. The flight "over the hump" of the Cascade range, which would have stopped many a flier, apparently did not cause the Lindberghs concern.

Almost unseen except by newspaper and cameramen and a few

PROTEST OF JAPAN NOT CONSIDERED

According to Agreement Troops Must Withdraw By Meeting on Nov. 16

WILL VOTE FRIDAY

China and Japan Urged to Establish Peace After Evacuation of Troops

GENEVA, Oct. 22.—(UP)—The League of Nations council has agreed on a formula for settlement of the dispute over Manchuria, but without the agreement of Japan and China, Aristide Briand of France, presiding, announced at a session of the council this afternoon.

The session of the council was attended by Prentiss B. Gilbert, United States observer.

The formula, proposed in a resolution of the council, calls for Japan to begin immediately the progressive withdrawal of troops into the railway zone of Manchuria, where she is allowed to have them by treaty with China, so that complete withdrawal will have ended before the next meeting of the council on November 16.

Japan has strenuously resisted the setting of any date for completion of withdrawal, and the council's action challenges her directly to meet the league's wishes in that regard or, presumably, take the onus for failure of the league's efforts to settle the problem.

Participation of Gilbert in the decisive meeting ending temporarily the council's efforts was agreed to by Japan, Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese representative, announced that Japan still maintained her legal objections to the method of inviting a non-member to sit in, but nevertheless welcomed the United States delegate. Japan, he said, is determined to maintain always pacific relations with the United States.

Gilbert, in reply, said he appreciated fully Japan's objections, were purely juridical. He expressed pleasure at hearing Yoshizawa's announcement and commented that good relations with Japan were reciprocal and over a long period.

FRIENDS' QUARREL ENDS IN SHOOTING

SULTANA, Calif., Oct. 22.—(UP)—A petty quarrel between friends of 25 years had resulted today in one being near death in a hospital and the other in jail.

W. L. Franks, storekeeper and hotel owner, was in a Dinuba hospital where he was suffering from bullet wounds in the arm and abdomen. "Cap" Weaver, 38, laborer, was in jail in Visalia, held on an open charge pending the outcome of Franks' injuries.

Investigating officers said Weaver was intoxicated when he went to Franks' store here and started a quarrel. He was ousted, they said, and returned later with a revolver. Franks was shot twice in the arm and once in the abdomen.

COURT GIVES ORDER TO REMOVE CORPSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—(UP)—The body of Senora Dona Catalina de la Torre de Martinez, whose $400,000 estate is being bitterly contested by a host of relatives, today was ordered by superior Judge Frank H. Dunne to be transported from Holy Cross cemetery to Mexico City at a cost not to exceed $1000. The order followed testimony by Mrs. Philippine Sofia Wiesner, music teacher, that Senora de la Torre de Martinez had told her she wanted to be buried next the body of her husband, General Angel de Martinez, chief of staff of the Mexican army under President Porfirio Diaz.

as minister of finance and Genaro Estrada as foreign minister. Both had gone to their offices daily since the former cabinet resigned last week.

Other members of the new government are:

Francisco Elias, cousin of ex-President Calles who retired last month as governor of Sonora; minister of agriculture.

Narciso Bassola, minister of education.

Lorenzo Hernandez, chief of the federal district.

Gustavo Serrano, minister of communications. Serrano has been a member of the international boundary commission for several years associated with rectification of the Rio Grande boundary.

Gen. Austin Olachea was named governor of the northern district of Lower California. He commanded federal troops against the rebel general Francisco Manzo in Sonora in 1926 and until last week was governor of the southern district of Lower California.

When Francisco Elias retired as governor of Sonora he was succeeded by Rodolfo Elias Calles, son of the ex-president.

Juan de Dios Bojorquez, former chief of the statistical department, was named governor of the southern district of Lower California. The newspaper Nacional said the retiring governor of the northern district, Carlos Trejo de Tejada, would be given another government post.

The ministers of finance and commerce and the foreign minister were the only members retained from the old government. Calles was the only general included in the new administration, compared with four generals in the last regime.

COUNTY CLERK DENIES HE'S PASSING OUT AQUEDUCT JOBS

County Clerk J. M. Backs is not building an aqueduct. In fact, he doubts if he ever will build one.

But this did not prevent a number of persons from approaching him today with the idea that he was passing out jobs on the Colorado river aqueduct.

It came about this way. Readers of a story in The Register yesterday, which said that only registered voters were being employed on the project and that a number of persons had registered with Backs in order to qualify, interpreted the story to mean that Backs was the man with the aqueduct jobs on tap. No one can secure an aqueduct job from Backs. But before he is eligible for such a job he must register as a voter. Backs will take care of that but he won't guarantee that anyone who registers will get a job.

peace between the two nations had become traditional.

Alfred Sze, Chinese delegate, submitted China's reply to the French note, which insisted that China had fulfilled all her obligations under the treaty since the beginning of the conflict. The reply expressed hope that Japan, as well as China, retained the fullest confidence in the negotiations, and that the league would establish a system of permanent peace in the east.

The proposed resolution has not yet been passed by the council, in agreement with Sze and Yoshizawa, the council decided to postpone discussion of it until 5 p. m. tomorrow. Yoshizawa said he was unable to set any time limit for Japanese troop withdrawal.

The resolution demands that China take adequate measures to protect Japanese nationals as fast as the evacuated territory is taken over by China. The resolution requests China to ask the assistance of other powers relative to measures to protect Japanese nationals.

The resolution recommends that after evacuation, Japan and China establish a permanent conciliation commission for the settlement of all pending disputes.

JAPANESE CONTINUE MANCHURIA ATTACKS

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Civil war in Manchuria was faced by the Chinese government today while Japanese forces continued their attacks by land and air.

Japanese planes bombarded Chinese troops protecting the Taonan-Taihsar bridge over the Nonni river, and received the backing of other Chinese forces who have broken with Gen. Chang Hsueh-Liang, Manchurian dictator. The bridge was damaged. Japanese commanders claimed the fighting, described as the most serious since Japanese planes attacked Chinchow, was started when Chinese fired on them.

Elsewhere fighting progressed with Japanese and Chinese fighting side by side against native troops still loyal to Gen. Chang. In the Ranshihian district, 32 miles from here, 1200 Chinese were repulsed by Japanese railway guards with estimated casualties of 50 Chinese.

An internecine battle between loyal troops and an army led by Chang Hsi-Peng appeared probable. Chang Hsi-Peng, friendly with the intention of capturing Heilungkiang province, while the loyalists were approaching with intentions to oppose him.

men and a second trunk for the remainder.

MRS. LEROI LAGUNA VISITOR IN ALBERT

Mrs. Agnes Lerol, for whose murder Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd is being sought throughout the United States, was a Laguna Beach visitor two months ago, calling on Dr. B. B. Mason at the Laguna Beach hospital.

Mrs. Lerol, before her second marriage was the wife of William B. Mason, brother of Dr. Mason. Their mother is Mrs. Maud Mason, of Santa Ana. William B. Mason was an automobile salesman in Santa Ana a number of years ago. The couple married in Portland five years ago and separated three years ago. Mrs. Mason later remarried and went to Alaska, where she became acquainted with Miss Samuelson. They came south together two years ago and Mrs. Lerol planned to place Miss Samuelson in the Laguna Beach hospital for treatment for tuberculosis. They decided to go to Phoenix, however.

On her trip to Orange county in August, Mrs. Lerol told Dr. Mason that she and Miss Samuelson were planning to have another girl live with them. This was Mrs. Judd.

officials, the Lindberghs slipped into Victoria aboard the liner President Jefferson shortly after 4 a. m., two hours earlier than expected. Their wishes for privacy because of Mrs. Lindbergh's sadness over the death of her father, Dwight W. Morrow, were respected by Canadian and ship line officials to the letter.

As they stepped from the boat they faced a battery of cameramen with flashlights poised.

Lindbergh hesitated to allow the men to take their pictures, and then passed on. He smilingly but determinedly refused to be interviewed, and the couple proceeded immediately to the airport, where a Lockheed Vega plane was held in readiness by Vance Breese, Los Angeles aviator.

SOLUTIONS FOR DEPRESSION TO BE SUGGESTED

Some solutions for the present economic crisis, especially as affecting the way out for the United States, will be analyzed by Dr. O. W. E. Cook, head of the department of International Relations at the University of Southern California, when he speaks tomorrow noon at Ketter's cafe before an open meeting of the Knights of the Round Table.

The address, last of a series of four, is expected to bring to a focus all the factors that have influenced the world condition responsible for the existing depression.

Santa Ana townspeople are invited by A. A. Brook, president of the Knights of the Round Table, to attend the meeting. Lunch is served at 12:10 o'clock but those who wish to come only for the address may arrive at 12:50 o'clock. Brook said.

There has been considerable interest in the series, and a large attendance is expected at the meeting today.

Supervisors May Name State Road

When the board of supervisors meets next Tuesday it may discuss which roads in this county it should recommend to the Southern California council of the California State Chamber of Commerce for inclusion in the state highway system.

Members of the board will attend a meeting of this body in the Alexandria hotel, Los Angeles, on November 4, when supervisors of the southern counties have asked to suggest roads for acceptance by the state.

Mexicans' Party Very Quiet Affair

Sheriff's officers were called to El Modena last night when it was reported that a Mexican celebration was about to take place, the celebration being held to honor the Mexicans who were leaving Orange county for their native country in a big exodus reported several days ago exclusively in The Register.

The report was to the effect that liquor flowed freely Tuesday night, during a similar celebration held at El Modena, but when officers got there last night, they found the neighborhood quiet, they reported.

Defendant Victor In Motor Crash Damage Action

Superior Judge H. G. Ames has found in favor of the defendant in the $23,590 damage suit brought against W. H. Thompson, of Laguna Beach, by Elden K. Dubendorf, of Buena Park, based on a motorcycle automobile accident at Beverly street and the Coast boulevard, Laguna Beach, on February 7.

Dubendorf, whose suit was filed through his father, S. A. Dubendorf, as guardian ad litem, suffered a broken left leg, a broken nose and other injuries. The Thompson car was driven by the defendant's son, Ben Thompson, at the time of the collision, the complaint said.

The defense claimed Dubendorf was guilty of contributory negligence.

MEN SOUGHT AFTER TWO GIRLS ANNOYED

Two men in an automobile attempted to entice two small school girls into their car on Polissetta street near Stafford street yesterday afternoon, according to a report made to the city police by Mrs. M. Forsberg, of 1821 Logan street, mother of one of the girls.

According to the report, the girls were returning to their homes from school shortly after 2:30 p. m. The car was parked at the side of the street and when the girls attempted to pass, they were accosted and one of the men offered candy as an inducement to get the children into the car.

Police made a search of the neighborhood but the car had disappeared. The girls became frightened at the two men, described as white and young, and ran home to tell their parents, who called the police.

CLUB CHAIRMAN OF LITERATURE SPEAKS FRIDAY

In developing the convention theme, "The New Age and the New Generation," Miss Josephine Seaman will discuss "The Younger Generation in Fiction," when she gives the address of the day at the 20th mid-year convention of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs to be held tomorrow in Anaheim. Miss Seaman is state chairman of literature, and will give her talk at the afternoon session.

The Ebell club rooms of that city will be the scene of the all-day session, which is to begin at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. Members of the Ebell club will be hostesses, with the club president, Mrs. Robert Hainlin, as official hostess. She is in charge of reservations for the affair, and announces that about 200 Orange county women are expected to attend.

Of this group, the voting body will be composed of 84 delegates; 24 presidents and seven county chairmen. Mrs. E. E. Smith of Anaheim, will preside during the day as president of the county federation.

During the morning, invocation will be led by the Rev. R. W. Lee, pastor of the First Methodist church of Anaheim. Speakers will include Mrs. Agnes McEwen, state vice president at large and Mrs. Albert Launer, southern district president. Music during the day will be provided by Olemea Enlow Mathews, violinist, and Reginald Taylor, vocalist.

The luncheon to be served in the club rooms at 1 o'clock will honor past presidents of the Orange county federation. The program at this time will be in charge of Mrs. Harry Dyer, of Long Beach, a past president of the county federation, who will present a group of original poems.

The day's program will include a short talk by Mrs. George Bunnell, of Redlands, and who will discuss disarmament in her capacity as chairman of the international relations committee.

It has been announced that the annual state convention of the California Federation of Women's clubs will be held in April in Orange.

Free Samples At Druggists Of Two New Vick Products

Every User of Vicks VapoRub Entitled to a Free Trial of Its New Allies—Vicks Nose & Throat Drops and Vicks Medicated Cough Drops.

INTRODUCES NEW IDEA

Discovery Makes Possible New Vick Plan of Better Home-Control of Colds.

TO REDUCE "COLD-TAX"

Following years of research on the problem of colds and their increasing cost, Vick Chemists announce a new discovery—Vicks Nose & Throat Drops. Based on a new idea in preventing colds, it is a perfect ally to Vicks VapoRub, the modern and better method of treating colds. Together they make possible the new Vick Plan of better control of colds in the home—and further reduction of the family "Cold-Tax" of time, money and discomfort.

Here is the Plan:

1.—Before a Cold Starts On exposure to colds or any of the causes that ordinarily lead to colds—(crowded indoor places—stuffy, poorly ventilated rooms—sudden temperature changes—wet and cold)—that slow down the normal functioning of the nose, Nature's marvelous "first line of defense against colds"—use Vicks Drops promptly. Or, if a cold actually threatens—when you feel that first stuffy, sneezy irritation of the nasal passages—a few drops up each nostril and many annoying colds will be avoided.

2.—When a Cold Strikes Use the convenient Vicks Drops during the day—anytime, any place—as often as needed for comfort and relief. At bedtime, rub Vicks VapoRub well over the throat and chest and cover with warm flannel. Leave bedclothing loose around the neck so the medicated vapors can be inhaled all night long. This Vick Plan gives you a full 24-hour treatment. (If there is a cough, you will like another new Vick product—Vicks Cough Drops—actually medicated with ingredients of Vicks VapoRub.)

Trial Packages Free.

In order that every user of Vicks VapoRub may try the two new Vick products now being introduced, a supply of free trial packages of each has been sent to every druggist in the United States. ## DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Because men, while on earth, are creatures of timethough destined for eternity, they must give themselves time to recover from any great blow which falls them to the earth.

Do not expect in a moment to regain your poise and do not despair because you are not completely master of yourself in an hour.

He who has guided you faithfully and sustained you all along will not fall you now.

The God who gave you your dear one, and who has prepared eternity for the two of you, will uplift you and direct you if you keep your trust in Him.

SPEED SCORED AS CAUSE OF FATAL CRASHES

Exploding a popular belief relative to the causes of fatal automobile accidents, Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison, speaking before the Santa Ana Breakfast club this morning declared that drunken driving is responsible for but two per cent of the traffic deaths and that railroad crossing accidents are responsible for slightly more than 3 per cent.

Violation of traffic rules, he declared, is responsible for 83 per cent of the traffic deaths. The remainder is caused by unavoidable accidents. The greatest menace on the highway today, according to Morrison, is the speeder. According to statistics of the California Highway Patrol, 71 1/2 per cent of all automobile accidents and accidental deaths is caused by speed.

Pointing out that it is impossible to stop an automobile traveling at 50 miles per hour in less than 160 feet, Morrison declared that excessive speed in either the city or on the open highway is dangerous.

Dr. Ralph T. Murane, program chairman for the day, provided the musical part of the program himself. Dr. Murane played several xylophone numbers that were enthusiastically received.

McCormick Buys Laguna Property For Paper Plant

Announcement that Harold F. McCormick, Chicago harvester magnate and president of the South Coast News company, had purchased 10 lots and a house on Coast Boulevard south at Brooks street, was made today by Sumner Crosby, editor. The building will be remodeled for use as a newspaper plant.

The house formerly was the home of Mrs. Catherine Brooks, early Laguna pioneer. The north wing of the home at one time housed one of the finest private art collections in the Southland.

The Laguna deal marks the first property investment of McCormick in California. The parcel contains 25,000 square feet and is in the geographical center of the city.

Unemployed Called To Mass Meeting

Reeves Aylmore, chairman of the Oda Job committee, one section of the citizens' unemployment committee, announces a meeting of all of the unemployed for Friday night, 7:30 o'clock, at the city hall for the purpose of completing the organization of the committee.

Every unemployed man is urged to attend as the plan of the committee is to have every man do something to help himself get a job. War veterans have already held their meeting and are co-operating 100 per cent, it is reported.

"You can get a job if you will help us get it for you," Aylmore said.

ARREST DRIVER AFTER WRECK ON LIQUOR CHARGE

A woman was hurt and a man arrested as the result of an automobile accident at Fairview street and Broadway at 5:45 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Ester Rounds, of 814 South Flower street riding with her husband in one car, was injured when the machine is reported to have been struck by a car driven by George Watson, 46, 1240 South Broadway.

Shortly after the accident, Watson was arrested by Santa Ana police officers and lodged in the county jail, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was examined by a physician shortly after his arrest, police reports.

Mrs. Rounds was taken into the residence of Dan Maloney, 1240 South Broadway, where she was given medical treatment and then removed to her home.

Watson, unhurt in the crash, is expected to be given a hearing in his case in the police court probably this afternoon.

BLIND FLYING COURSE ADDED AT AIRPORT

Tu Dale Deckert goes the honor of being the first pilot to take up the newly equipped "blind flying" airplane at the Eddie Martin Airport, south of Santa Ana. The task of equipping a Travelair plane for this form of instruction was completed yesterday and with Joe Hicks, veteran flier, in the open cockpit, as flight observer and checker, Deckert took it aloft and flew for approximately 45 minutes. The pilot changed positions and Hicks went through a session of instrument flying.

The rear cockpit of the plane has been enclosed with canvas and a complete set of instruments installed. As a safety feature "zipper" safety snaps have been installed to make immediate opening of the enclosed area possible in an emergency.

Practically all of the pilots at the airport tried out on the ship yesterday afternoon and all of them are planning to start a course of instrument flying as soon as possible. This equipment was added at the airport to make the local field the most modern and completely equipped training school in Southern California. With the new ship it is possible for a student to start at the Martin field and take all his instruction up to and including transport license training at the local airport.

Movie Actors Caught In Rip Tide

Two motion picture actors, Reed Hawes and Gene Johnson, discovered yesterday that breakers are hard on canoes.

During a full in the filming of a picture near the Huntington Beach pier yesterday, each dared the other to paddle a canoe through the breakers from a point off shore.

The canoes were upset and Hawes and Johnson were being carried out by a rip tide when Gene Belshe, employed on pier work, jumped in and held them up until lines could be thrown from the pier.

EXPECT JURY OF WOMEN TO TRY CASE

A jury composed of women will probably try the case of John Meyer, 823 North Parton street, charged with sale of liquor, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this afternoon.

The case was called this morning, but some trouble was experienced in selecting a jury and the case was continued until this afternoon. According to N. D. Meyer, attorney for the defendant, a panel of 40 was called, and 33 of them were women. Three of the men called were not in court.

The defendant is one of the prisoners arrested during the recent county wide liquor raid. He is charged with selling a pint of whiskey to an undercover agent working for the sheriff. The crime is alleged to have been committed on July 28.

TIGER WOMAN'S FATHER KNOWN TO LOCAL MAN

Perhaps a new insight into the character of Ruth Judd, asserted "tiger woman" sought throughout the Southland as the slayer of Mrs. Agnes Anne LeRo and Hedvig Samuelson, was revealed today by the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarenes here, when he told of knowing Mrs. Judd's parents when she was a small child and of how her father, the Rev. Harvey J. McKinnell, lavished attention upon the little girl.

The Rev. Mr. McKinnell was a circuit rider in Indiana and Illinois and was a familiar figure to the Rev. Mr. Harding. He also was Mrs. Harding's pastor when she was a child. The now aged and retired pastor was a Free Methodist minister and was accompanied on his circuits by his wife, whom he called Janie. They had no children.

Mrs. McKinnell died, however, and the Rev. Mr. McKinnell married a younger woman. Mrs. Ruth Judd was their child. Becoming a father rather late in life, the Rev. Mr. McKinnell devoted unusual attention to his little daughter. Almost wherever he went he carried her in his arms and the Rev. Mr. Harding recalled seeing him have her in his lap at church conferences. Apparently the two seldom were separated, with the father devoting attention to the girl almost constantly.

Whether this devotion and attention had any effect upon the character of Mrs. Judd when she became a woman was a question which the Rev. Mr. Harding said he was unable to answer, not having seen her for many years.

Final Session Of Recreation Group At H. S. Tonight

With a reported daily average of 200 persons the social recreation conferences being held each afternoon and evening in the high school gymnasium this week will close tonight with what is expected to be the greatest attendance of any of the sessions.

Topic for the conference at 7:30 tonight which is under the direction of Robert K. Murray, New York City, recreation expert, will be arranged with a special appeal for church workers and P.T.A. members.

The series was sponsored by the city schools, playground commission and Y. M. and Y. W. associations.

Fails To Prove Charge In Court

Z. Andy yesterday had failed to convince the superior court that A. Martel of Talbert, was guilty of malicious prosecution when Andy was arrested on a charge of stealing 20 hogs from Martel's herd.

MAN INJURED IN CRASH NEAR DEATH

Death today hovered close to the bed of Clark Shelton, 43, of 1751 Arlington street, Torrance, severely injured in an automobile-motorcycle accident at Flower and Highway streets here yesterday afternoon. Attendees at the Orange county hospital, where the man was taken, reported that he was not expected to live throughout the day. He is suffering from a basal fracture of the skull and is unconscious. He also suffered a broken ankle.

The accident occurred, according to a police report, when Shelton, on a motorcycle collided with a car driven by Fred Davis, 27, of 202 Hathaway street. Davis was not hurt.

Tribute To Hoover As Leader

At the conclusion of his address last night before members of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, Colvin K. Brown paid a glowing tribute to President Hoover and his fight to stabilize business and solve the unemployment problem. He said:

"The American people put a man on the bridge at a pretty terrible time and charged him with the task of steering the ship of state through storms that threatened destruction, to a safe harbor. He has been harried on all sides by storm and strife and I believe that President Hoover is far more capable and can see his ultimate goal better than the average man."

As the success of the joint social events of the camp and auxiliary.

According to an announcement made at the meeting the camp fife and drum corps will receive new uniforms in time for the parade on Armistice Day in addition to a new banner made by Louella Randel, of Calumpit Auxiliary.

A cabinet of medals and war relics owned by the late James W. Nourse was presented in memory of the departed comrade. Past Commander Walter W. Tantlinger presented the memento on behalf of Mrs. John Zabel, of Petersburg, Mich.

TOASTMASTERS PREPARING FOR CONVENTION

A huge birthday cake, with one large candle and seven small ones, is to be provided for the banquet which will be attended by members of the 10 toastmasters clubs in Southern California at the first anniversary of the organization of Toastmasters International and the seven small candles will commemorate the seventh birthday of the Santa Ana Toastmasters club, the first of all the Toastmasters clubs organized.

Final arrangements for the convention were concluded at the meeting of the Santa Ana Toastmasters last night, according to Harry LeBar, president.

The program has been arranged by a committee headed by Merle Hall, assisted by Dr. C. J. Ruley, Harry LeBar, Frank Humphrey and Harold Fish. Walter Ferris is chairman of the reception committee. The wives of toastmasters are aiding on the reception committee. They are Mrs. Frederick Eley, Mrs. D. H. Tibbals, Mrs. Harry LeBar, Mrs. J. B. Head, and Mrs. Walter Ferris. The banquet committee includes D. H. Tibbals, Harry LeBar and Merle Hall.

MRS. E. JOHNSON OF FULLERTON DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Edgar Johnson, 62, wife of Edgar Johnson, former publisher of the Fullerton Tribune, died at 1 o'clock this morning at the Johnson home in Fullerton. Death was due to a stroke of apoplexy.

Mrs. Johnson, formerly Mildred Ward, was a native of San Bernardino and was married to Johnson in March, 1889 in Santa Ana. Theirs was the third marriage license to be issued in this county after its secession from Los Angeles county.

In 1890 the Johnsons moved to Fullerton and since that time have been active in civic and club affairs. Mrs. Johnson was prominent in affairs of the Business and Professional Women's club of that city and greatly interested in floriculture.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. in the McAulay-Suter chapel. Place of interment and other details will be announced later.

She is survived by six sisters and one brother.

MAKE PLANS FOR COUNTY DAIRY DAY

Dairy day for the Orange county dairy department of the Farm Bureau will be held Friday, November 6, at the Aliso dairy, south of Santa Ana, according to arrangements completed at the meeting of the directors of the department held last night at Ketter's cafe. The program for the dairymen will include speeches by state experts, it was stated by E. A. Wakeham, Garden Grove, chairman of the department.

The dairy day, an annual affair for all the dairymen of the department in the county, will open at 10 o'clock and continue until 2 o'clock.

The high test cows of the Aliso dairy, operated by the Segerstrom Brothers, will be exhibited. Both the high test individual cow and the five high cows for 1931 are in the herd at the Aliso dairy. In addition the dairy showed the greatest increase in average butter fat for the year, according to the tests by L. W. Garretson, of Santa Ana.

Problems in dairying will be discussed by G. E. Gordon, University of California extension specialist; J. J. Dyer, of the law and utilities department of the state farm bureau; and by Dr. Duckworth, of the state bureau of animal industry.

'FOOL' PRESENTED AT SCHOOL TONIGHT

Another presentation of "The Fool," four-act play offered by the young people of the First Methodist church of Santa Ana under the auspices of the department of religious education, will be given tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Santa Ana high school. So enthusiastic was the reception of the play last week and so numerous were the requests for another showing, that the arrangements were made for the repetition tonight.

The play, directed by Willis Deu Free Billups, is based on the class struggle, with the setting in New York City. The leading roles are taken by Miss Audrey Leeson and Robert Deupree. Sixteen actors are cast in the production.

CALL ISSUED FOR 1931 GRAND JURY

Following an order from Presiding Judge Homer G. Ames of the Orange county superior court calling the panel of the 1931 grand jury, Sheriff Logan Jackson and his deputies today were serving notices on the 30 members to report for duty on November 2.

The grand jury will conduct its annual investigation into the conduct of county offices and public affairs. Of the panel of 30 persons, 19 will be chosen to act on the jury. Its sessions usually run two or three months.

SPECIAL STAMP ISSUE SELLING RAPIDLY AT P. O.

An enthusiastic reception has been given in Santa Ana to the new special two cent stamp commemorating the defeat of the British at Yorktown in 1781 by George Washington. More than half of the 5000 stamps received at the post office here have been sold since they were put on sale two days ago. It was announced today by the stamp assistant postmaster. The stamp is oblong and displays three oval pictures in black against a red background. In the center oval is General Washington and on either side is General Rochambeau, of the French army and Admiral de Grasse, of the French navy, who assisted in the defeat of Cornwallis at Yorktown. The stamp is one of the most striking in appearance ever issued. Washington, known as the father of his country and its first president, received aid from the French army and navy in the final battle, it is recalled. General Rochambeau, who had been bidding his time at Newport, put his army at Washington's disposal and General de Grasse with the French fleet, defeated the English vessels at Yorktown, thus leaving Cornwallis and his army bottled up. Many collectors have obtained copies of this special issue.

Girl Evangelist Drawing Crowds

The 18 year old girl evangelist, Norma Ealey, is attracting large crowds with her preaching nightly at the Church of The Nazarenes, according to the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor. While the meeting has only been in progress a few nights the crowds are large and on the increase, he said. Several persons have professed Christ as their Savior. Tonight the girl evangelist will speak to parents and children. The morning services are from 9:30 to 10:30 and the first 30 minutes of this service is broadcast over radio station KREG, occupying the same time as "The Little Church of the Wildwood."

Young Men 18 to 30 years of age interested in a frank discussion of causes and cures of present depression are invited to come to Y. M. C. A. Monday at 7:30 P. M.

MAINTENANCE OF STANDARDS AND GUARANTEE OF WORK REMEDY FOR CONDITIONS

Maintenance of the working man's high standard of living, complete rehabilitation of Europe and definite guarantee of employment are the three ingredients that form the dose necessary to cure the nation of its business and economic slump, according to Colvin K. Brown, manager of the organization department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, who was the honor guest and speaker at a dinner of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce membership, held last night in the Santa Ana cafe.

Speaking of the present economic situation and unemployment Brown stressed the fact that he was not attempting to project his own opinion as to the causes and possible cure for the existing condition but was presenting the impressions gained through conferences with merchants, manufacturers, bankers and statesmen.

There are 400,000,000 people in Europe, he said, and if their living standards could be raised $1 per person per day the effect on world business would be startling. It would mean, according to Brown, that markets would increase faster than competition could develop. Prosperity, Brown declared, depends upon the standard of living adopted by the working man. This has been proven in America. It is a positive fact, he said, that the high standard of living maintained by the American worker is the secret of America's business success. This was illustrated by comparison of industry today with those of a few years ago when the one objective of capital was to secure the longest day's work possible for the lowest wage.

Stabilize Employment
Business leaders, according to Brown, are attempting to stabilize employment to the degree that it will follow an even trend. The first step was taken 10 years ago when Proctor & Gamble guaranteed every one of their employees a minimum of 48 weeks' work per year. Since taking that step the company's business has increased and it passed successfully through the terrible slump of 1929. Since the plan was adopted by Proctor and Gamble more than 200 other large industries have successfully followed their lead.

While there are no statistics available relative to unemployment, Brown said, the most accurate estimate is that today there are 6,500,000 men unemployed in America making, with their families a total of 20,000,000 dependents. The same situation exists in other countries making a world wide problem that must be solved. This solution, according to Brown, lies within each community.

If every community will do its share and attack the problem with the determination that no man in the community who is able to work shall be without employment there will be no need for America to even consider adoption of the "dole system" Brown said that while he does not believe that the "dole system" ever will be adopted in America because the communities will do their part. "America is too rich to ever allow the people to suffer, and if the communities do not handle the situation, congress will."

Ready For Spurt
Referring to the five-day week Brown said "If industry can maintain the necessary schedule of production on a five-day week we should have it. Hours should be shorter for the best interests of the nation, providing more leisure for the worker to utilize as spending time."

Business leaders, he said, claim that business is in a good technical position for a pickup at any time. That this pickup might be started at any time is indicated by the fact that inventories are down in all merchandising establishments and the least flurry of buying would force additional manufacturing activity.

An enormous amount of investment money is not being used through fear, while bankers, in attempting to get their affairs in a liquid condition, are denying loans to business houses that are entitled to credit. The Hoover credit plan, it is believed, will solve this phase of the problem.

In conclusion Brown said that the important thing now is to create a feeling of confidence. C. E. Rutledge, president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, presided and Secretary George Raymer introduced the speaker.

Picnic Arranged By Riding Club

PLACENTIA, Oct. 22.—Members of El Rodeo Riding club will meet at the clubhouse at 10 a. m., Sunday for a picnic and ride in Toner canyon, according to announcement made today by Alexander Anderson, secretary.

The afternoon will be spent at games. Guests are invited.

An invitation from the chamber of commerce and Merchants and Manufacturers association of Anaheim to ride in the Halloween parade, Anaheim, October 30, has been accepted. Club members riding are to meet on the vacant lot on the north side of West Center street at Five Points, about a mile west of the center of town.

ASSERTS SATAN IS TO BE DESTROYED

"Satan is not a mere influence but is a real being, possessing far greater wisdom and power than any man," Evangelist John Ford told his audience at the North Main street tabernacle last night. "Our only protection from his power," he said, "is in Christ who already overcame him in our behalf. There is no man living who can resist his temptations unaided. To enter heaven one must overcome all evil in his life and only Christ can enable one to do that."

"Contrary to common belief, Satan is not to be punished through endless ages. The Bible tells us that he and his angels will be consumed root and branch, that they shall be as though they had not been, and that they shall be ashes under the feet of the righteous." Tonight Evangelist Ford will speak on the obstacles to be overcome in order to be healed by prayer.

Welfare League Seeks Clothing

LA HABRA, Oct. 22.—The Welfare league of La Habra is sending out a call for men's and boys' clothing. The depot is open at 119 East Central avenue each Monday, Wednesday and Friday between the hours of 8:30 and 11:30 a. m. Anyone bringing in supplies or clothing when the depot is not open may leave these with Mr. Marshall in the shoe repair shop next door. The next regular meeting of the league will be held at the Washington school Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The O.E.S., with Edna Leutwiler in charge, will conduct the depot October 25, 28 and 30.

All Past Noble Grand of Torosa Lodge, who desire to attend the dinner at the Santa Ana Cafe, Wednesday, Oct. 28, at 6 o'clock, given in honor of the State President Lucy Dake, will please telephone Mrs. Floyd Spencer on or before Monday the 26th.—Adv.

OFFER FARMERS SPECIAL RATES TO CONVENTION

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 22.—Every railroad in California is offering a special round-trip rate, of a fare and a third, to farmers and dependent members of their families who will attend the state-wide California Farmers' convention at Sacramento from December 2 to 4.

Confirmation of the special rate agreements was received today by Dudley Moulton, director of the state department of agriculture, who, with a committee of growers, is now completing plans for the gathering.

Farmers who desire to take advantage of the special railroad fares are asked to send their names and names of the members of their families to the state department of agriculture at Sacramento in order that identification certificates may be mailed to them.

Packing House, Not Residence, Subject Of Dance Petition

The application before the board of supervisors for a license to operate a dance hall on property formerly owned by E. D. Burge refers not to the residence on East First street but to the packing house of Lyon street, it was revealed today by J. E. Prentice, owner of the property.

A group of Los Angeles men has applied to the board for a license, the matter having been continued until the return of Supervisor George Jeffrey, now on a trip to the South Seas, in whose district the property lies.

MEN WANTED--- TO DEBATE ON WORLD CRISIS

An unusual advertisement appears in the classified columns of the Register today. It reads as follows:

Young men 18 to 30 years of age interested in a discussion of causes and cure of present depression are invited to come to Y. M. C. A. Monday at 7:30 p. m.

The idea back of this advertisement, according to General Secretary Ralph Smedley, is to give men an opportunity to discuss freely the problems in their own minds concerning the conditions of depression and unemployment, and to have such answers as can be offered for questions that may be raised.

"The age limit is not important," said Smedley. "We have suggested 18 to 30, taking that to be the most vitally interested group, but no man will be excluded because of his age or his youth. We believe that a frank discussion will be profitable. There will be no limitations on questions, and no soft-pedaling dangerous topics. The occasion is not planned for propaganda, but for discussion, and for discovery of the facts. We hope that a considerable number of men will respond. If there is a genuine interest shown, further discussions will be arranged. If the interest does not appear, there will be no follow-up on the plan. It is offered only for the good that it may do."

Court Notes

Dorothy Kimme has brought suit against Charles S. Kimme, seeking to have their marriage annulled. They married on June 13. The complaint indicated incompatibility, placing the responsibility on the defendant.

Tobias and Lydia Weber, doing business as the Weber Trailer Manufacturing company, have brought suit against Lucid Pateri, administratrix of the estate of the late Guido Pateri, who died on January 6, asking return of a trailer alleged to have been purchased on contract on which the defendants have defaulted. In lieu of the trailer the complaint asked for $1415.40. Damages of $1000 were requested.

Noted Evangelist Called By Christian Church

DR. SCOVILLE TO OPEN SERVICES NEXT JANUARY

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—The Orange Christian church has called Dr. Charles Reigh Scoville, noted evangelist of the Christian church, to hold a three weeks meeting in January or February. This meeting will follow one in the Santa Ana Christian church. Both congregations feel very fortunate in obtaining Dr. Scoville. It was said, Mrs. Scoville is well known as a singer. There are two other members of the party.

The group of four has just closed a meeting with the Christian church in Danville, Ind., with 258 additions and large crowds in attendance. They closed their work for the summer with a meeting in Lafayette, Ind., where 452 were converted. Some years ago, Dr. Scoville held union tabernacle meetings where many were converted. In 1912 they made a tour around the world.

The call was issued by the official board and the congregation of the Christian church some weeks ago, but the final details were worked out last night at a called official board meeting.

500 Expected At Walther League's Banquet Friday

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—Nearly 500 reservations have been made for the booster banquet to be held at the Walker Memorial hall tomorrow evening. A program has been arranged. Miss Irene Schroeder, president of the St. John's Senior Walther league, is in charge of general plans for the affair.

Funds from the banquet are to be used for the International convention of Walther leagues in Los Angeles in 1932.

ELKS PREPARE FOR DECEMBER PROGRAM

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—Sixty Elks responded to roll call at the regular meeting of the organization last night. O. M. Rodieck, exalted ruler, was in charge of the event. A report was given by Lorin G. Moore, leading knight, that work on the Elks annual charity show was progressing in a satisfactory manner. The show is to be given at the Orange theater the first week in December. Moore was selected as chairman of the show committee at the last meeting of the lodge.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—Dr. Robert Burns McAulay is still quite ill with bronchial trouble and is unable to be at his office.

W. W. Perry, East Chapman avenue, is expecting his mother, Mrs. Catherine Perry, to arrive here soon to spend the winter. Mrs. Perry lives in Cass county, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. McElfresh and daughter, Miss Faith McElfresh, and sons, Douglas and Samuel, spent Sunday in Montebello.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Waller and daughter, Thelma, and son, Robert, were guests of Mr. Waller's niece, Mrs. Abbie Colbert, at Compton Sunday, driving to that city in time for dinner.

Mrs. Gladys Wetherbee and Miss Norma Watters drove to Los Angeles last night to attend a florists convention.

Guests in the home of Mrs. D. E. Crawford, North Glassell street, recently were Eugene and Margaret Morgan, of Kern county, who are attending Santa Barbara Teachers college.

Mrs. Claudia Windolph and daughter, Miss Lola, and son, Robert, of 1726 Plaza Del Norte, of Balboa, spent last evening with friends in Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jones, of 267 North Glassell street, left this morning by motor for Texas for an extended visit. They are accompanied by their two daughters, the Misses Thelma and Helen, and two sons, Edwin and Douglas.

Employees of the Villa Park Orchard association under the management of H. D. Nichols were entertained last evening at the Irvine Park with a picnic dinner served at 6:30 o'clock. The packing-house furnished ice cream and coffee. Joe Adams was in charge of the evening's entertainment and dinner was followed by dancing in the park pavilion.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Livingston of 632 West LaVeta avenue, entertained in their home recently, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bower, of Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Glover, of 213 North Olive street, were recent guests in Corona in the home of Mrs. M. L. Glover.

Miss Inez Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Davis, of 335 South Glassell street, is taking her second year work in the Oregon State college at Corvallis.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pike were overnight guests Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Pike's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ingle, of West Culver avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Parsons, of 207 North Glassell street, entertained, at dinner Saturday evening, friends from Long Beach and Venice, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peck and Mrs. Roy Peak.

A. G. Ingle is spending a part of this week in Ontario remodeling his residence property in that city.

Mrs. Marjorie Dick was a guest Wednesday in the home of her foster-sister, Mrs. Isabel Garland, on South Parker street.

Friends of Gordon Hoskins, who formerly resided in Orange, will be interested to hear that while he is confined to the hospital in San Diego he is not permitted to receive callers but enjoys hearing from his friends through the mail.

The residence built during the past summer at 477 North Center street by James Akers is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Hyatt, who formerly resided at 632 East Culver avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Perry are expecting to spend the week end in their cabin at Lake Arrowhead, which they are having wired.

The Christian church congregation will make a Halloween tour October 30 to Los Angeles with a program including an inspection of the Japanese school, a luncheon at the California Christian college, and a trip to Glenwood to the Little Church of Flowers, to view the window depicting "The Last Supper."

OLIVE P.-T. A. WILL BUY MILK FOR CHILDREN

OLIVE, Oct. 2.—The Olive P.-T. A. held its regular meeting in the Olive grammar school building Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. The president, Mrs. A. W. Mollica, presided during the opening session. During the business hour a discussion was held on the availability of the school buying milk for the four lower grades. The plan met the approval of those present and arrangements were completed to carry it out.

Mrs. Mollica gave a report of the district meeting at Laguna Beach. An announcement was made of a meeting of teachers to be held in Newport Beach November 6 at 2:30 p. m., to hear an address by John Adams on the "Economic Situation of the United States."

Two new committees were appointed, the magazine committee, Mrs. Gus McClintock and Mrs. Charles Maag, and the safety committee, Mrs. A. R. Harner and Mrs. Don Feemster.

The program was opened by the piano solo by one of the sixth grade pupils, Margaret Hughes. Miss Idabel Durgan of the county health department, was the speaker and talked on "The Health of Our Community." A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments of pie and coffee were served by Mrs. Ross Wagner and Mrs. Ben Gilker. The pies were baked by the president, Mrs. Mollica.

Civil War Days Are Recalled By Flint-Lock Gun

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—"Dad" Bay paused a moment as he walked down North Glassell street yesterday to look at the old flint-lock gun on display in the window of the F. E. Hallman real estate office. "Dad" Bay was a boy of 12 when flint-lock guns were the latest thing in the way of firearms and his two cousins and two older brothers had marched away with weapons of the sort over their shoulders to fight in the Civil war.

"There were lots of boys of 14 and even 12 who ran away and joined the troops as drummer boys in those days," Bay said, "and I was quite a drummer. Twice I started to run away to join my brothers at the front and both times my father followed me and brought me back. Once I walked 12 miles to the town near our farm but my father misled me at one and took me home just as I was boarding the train. The other time I rode to town with the family and tried to make my getaway but my father persuaded me I would be more useful to my country if I waited until I was a little older."

I. company ditch and the Santa Ana river near Sulphur Slide in the Santa Ana canyon reached the top of the structure for the first time this year. Considerable snow is said to have fallen in the mountains.

How Modern Women Lose Pounds of Fat Swiftly—Safely

Gain Physical Vigor—Youthfulness

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 3 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your eyes sparkle—you feel younger, in body—keener in mind. KRUSCHEN will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

Get an 85c bottle of KRUSCHEN SALTS at Givens and Cannon, McCoy Drug Co.—2 stores—(lasts 4 weeks). If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so cheerfully energetic—vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

MRS. W. F. PAULUS CLUB SECRETARY

OLIVE, Oct. 22.—The Get Together club was entertained at its regular meeting in the social hall Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. George Bochner and Mrs. Arthur Harms. The table was decorated in Halloween colors, a very clever witch's cauldron serving as centerpiece. Combination sandwich loaf and coffee were served to the following members: Mesdames Jake Timken, Henry Timken, Herman Waschnack, William E. Paulus, George Lemke, Fred Klauer, Rudy Heman, August Heinemann, Raymond Meierhoff, George Heinemann, William F. Paulus, A. W. Schmid and Ed Guenther.

Mrs. George Heinemann presided in the absence of Mrs. Edwin Brelje, the president. Mrs. William F. Paulus was elected to serve as secretary for the remainder of the year in place of Mrs. Emil Lemke. The resignation of Mrs. Albert Wischnack was accepted.

Announcement was made by the entertainment committee, that a social evening had been planned for the members and their families for Friday evening at the hall.

Mrs. George Lemke and Mrs. H. O. Luchau will serve on the next visiting committee, and Mrs. August Heinemann and Mrs. George Heinemann on the serving committee.

I. O. O. F. Team To Confer Degree At Oceanside Session

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—Members of the first degree team of the I. O. O. F. lodge are to go to Oceanside Friday evening to confer the first degree. About 38 are expected to be in attendance from here. C. C. Bennett is the assistant degree team master and Robert Evans is the noble grand.

El Modena Home Scene Of Party

EL MODENA, Oct. 22.—A charming vanishing luncheon was given recently at the lovely ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Evans of North Alameda street. Mrs. Evans was assisted in her hostess duties by her sister-in-law, Miss Lula Evans, of Orange.

A low bowl of pink sweet peas formed the centerpiece for the luncheon table. Tall tapers and nut cups were in harmonizing shades of yellow. The afternoon was spent in conversation, needlework and music. Dainty place cards were barked for Mrs. A. Haven Smith, Mrs. M. M. Fishback, Mrs. Herbert Walker, Mrs. H. E. Coate, Mrs. Noral Evans, Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert, Mrs. Donald Smiley, Mrs. Ed Dozier and the hostesses, Mrs. Evans and Miss Lula Evans.

CLUB HISTORY TOLD MEMBERS OF ORANGE DEN

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—The original charter of the Orange Lions club was brought to the club yesterday by C. Forest Talmage, one of the six charter members of the organization, still lives in Orange. Other charter members are T. L. Faris, Oscar Lechtuss, John Harms Jr., W. S. Lentz and Judge A. W. Swayze. John Mellon was the first president.

A history of the local organization was given by Talmage, who said the club was founded in 1923 with 46 charter members. It was voted to have the charter framed and Joe Woodside, secretary, was instructed to have this done.

Roy Edwards gave a brief history of the founding of the Lions club during the World war and said that in June, 1917, the first national convention of Lions clubs was held at Dallas, Texas, when 25 clubs existed with 800 members. At the present time Edwards said, there are 79,414 Lions in the United States.

The Lions, the speaker said, organized 890 new clubs the past year with 8000 new members. Five countries of the world have Lions clubs and at the present time the list of Lion club members tops the list of service clubs and it is the hope of the organization to make the club membership the largest in the North American continent. The Rotary club is second in point of membership and the Kiwanis third, it was said.

Judge A. W. Swayze, who was program chairman, gave a short resume of the work of the local justice court and stated that the Santa Ana canyon was the setting for more traffic citations than any other part of the county. Judge Swayze had made arrangements for Lieutenant Governor Frank Merriam to be the speaker of the day, but the lieutenant governor was unable to be present.

A visitor to the club was Ernie Winbiger, of Santa Ana and George Elitiste was welcomed after an absence. A report of the Lions dance was given by Charles Caster.

A report of the county council meeting at Anaheim was given and it was stated that the next county council meeting is to be held at McFarland's cafe at Fullerton and that Fred Wagner, veteran race track starter, would be present with a number of noted racing drivers.

Ivan Swanger, president of the club, stated that Business Conference week had been postponed until December 1 in order to give more time for the organization of a Christmas shopping campaign.

TWO FACULTY MEMBERS TALK BEFORE CLUB

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—Two members of the Orange Union High school faculty, entertained the members of the 20-30 club at the regular meeting of the organization at the Orient cafe last night. F. L. Carrier, head of the dramatic department, gave an interesting talk on a trip which he made east the past summer. Stewart White, coach at the high school, spoke on a comparison of football playing with business.

Albert Amling was the program chairman and piano solos were presented by Miss Marguerite Loescher. Dr. W. C. Lechtuss, president, was in charge of the meeting.

employment was discussed and the $20,000 bond project of that city was revealed to club members. It was said that only men who have lived in Brea for six months are to be employed if the bond issue carries, and that they are to be paid in scrip which may only be used in Brea business establishments.

Farewell Party For Edwin Jones

ORANGE, Oct. 22.—Edwin Jones, who left today for Texas, was honored Tuesday evening with a farewell party by a group of his schoolmates of the Orange Union High school. The home of O. R. Hunting on North Grand street was the setting of the enjoyable affair.

The home was decorated with bright autumn flowers. Games were played and fortune telling enjoyed. At the close of the evening the three hostesses, Mrs. O. R. Hunting and two daughters, the Misses Leola and Mary Hunting, served refreshments of ice cream, cake, mints, chocolates and home made fudge.

Present were the guest of honor, Edwin Jones, and Basil Nash, Miss Luberta Morgan, Miss Minnie Christiansen, Miss Margaret Gregg, Lawrence Grist, Miss Della Shepherd, Harold Banks and the hostesses.

AFTER 40 bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of piles and a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proven perfectly safe even for babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe; will not sicken you or weaken you; can be used without harm as often as your breath is bad, or when your tongue is coated; whenever a headachy, bilious, gassy condition warns of constipation.

Health Camp Items

BY GERALD ADAIR

A bushel of apples and a lug of large juicy pears were brought up to our camp by our good friend, Mrs. William E. Ditch. The fruit was the donation of the Santa Ana branch of the Help One Another club. We certainly appreciate this kind thoughtfulness.

Mrs. Olive Lopez of Los Angeles and Mrs. Horace Head visited our Health Camp last Monday. They attended a session of our school and also saw us while in rest period. After dinner was over, they announced that they had enjoyed the splendid meal. They mentioned the avocado salad in particular.

Homer Larkin of the Orange County Hardware company, Santa Ana, brought us a large assortment of paints the other day. The first thing we did was to paint our toy boxes. The boxes were secured by our superintendent, Miss Leah Reinschmidt, and are for placing our toys and games in at night. The job was finished in first rate style and other than red hands, blue faces, and black noses, no casualties were reported.

A large assortment of canned fruits was donated by the Placentia society. We appreciate this offering of the Dorcas society and hope they enjoyed their visit to our Health Camp.

We celebrated several birthdays this week. Among those who celebrated were Philip Baker, Miles Payne, and Mary Lou Hayes. We always have a birthday cake with candles and we turn the lights out and bring in the cake.

Last night it was too cold to stay in the Recreation hall and we wonder when the promised fireplace is going to be built. So after supper, we went up to the school house. A large fire was built in the fireplace and we grouped the seats in a semi-circle around the fire. After eating popcorn and nuts, we sang some of our songs. We also learned several new songs and half a dozen or so new yells. Our yell leader, Philip Baker, is going to review these yells with us tomorrow night. Gerald Adair promises to teach us some more songs. Tomorrow night, the girls are to put on a program for us.

Last Saturday we had homemade cookies with supper. This was nothing out of the ordinary but the boys thought it strange the interest the girls took in them. After replying to half a dozen excited questions, and admitting that the cookies were "swell," we were informed that the cookies were the first of several "treats" the girls have planned.

Miss Rose Marie Wilson's classes are making Jack O' Lanterns for the party which is to be held the night before Halloween. The plans for the party have been completed and it promises to be a very novel event. The room is taking on a "woodsy" appearance as autumn leaves are hung around the walls. Gee! We envy the Alumni for being invited to go to the wonderful benefit concert in the high school auditorium, Santa Ana, October 23, which is being given for us. We won't even get to see our own movie. Oh, well, maybe, we'll get enough money so we can have some boys and girls come to the Health Camp to play the "health game" with us. We can't have everything.

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, Oct. 22.—Mrs. W. J. Rennie, Mrs. Glenn Foster and Mrs. E. W. Rennie, of Buena Park, were among guests of Mrs. Susanna Bixby Bryant at Rancho Santa Ana, when she entertained members of the Buena Park Women's club and a group of friends.

Mrs. Vernon Snell and daughter, Violet, spent Sunday with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hattie Mahard, in Long Beach.

Miss Maribelle Dyer, of Tulare, arrived Wednesday for a week's visit at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. S. S. Dyer. Miss Nedra Fulmer, of Roosevelt, Utah, is spending the week in the home of her sister, Mrs. Vern Case. She expects to go to San Diego for a few days' visit before entering business college.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Penhall and family attended a birthday dinner Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Penhall in Westminster, the dinner being in honor of Harry Penhall.

Mrs. S. S. Dyer, and son, Leonard, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Davis, of Long Beach at a dinner party at the Virginia Country club.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Thomas, of Van Nuys, were guests Saturday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Case.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wallbridge were, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Watts and son, C. W. Watts, Jr., and Mrs. Frank Ward, of Long Beach.

M. E. Penhall returned Friday from a business trip to Brawley.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Snell, accompanied by the former's mother, Mrs. Hattie Mahard, of Long Beach, and his aunt, Mrs. Ruby Woods, of St. Louis, Mo., enjoyed a trip to San Diego, Thursday. Mrs. Ralph Bloomdale, of Bellflower, visited Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Wallace.

Mrs. Charles Dooling and two children visited in Long Beach Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Franzell received word Monday of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Wallis Jones, at the Okanagan hospital, Washington. Mrs. Jones is well known in Cypress, having visited here several times.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh LaRue visited Sunday with their son, R. G. LaRue, at the state experimental station at Riverside.

Mrs. Lola Calder, principal of the Cypress school is ill. Miss Noble, of Santa Ana, is taking her place. Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Temple have returned from a two and a half months' visit with relatives in Iowa and Colorado. C. H. Colvin and family were in charge of the Temple home during their absence.

Mrs. A. E. Arnold and daughter, returned Monday from a week's visit with her sister in Coachella.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Barnett, of Temecula were visitors Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Barnett.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Grindlay spent the week end with friends in Beaumont.

A pleasant evening was spent Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, when they entertained a group of friends with a "hard times" party.

Mrs. Fred Mackay and J. N. Fitzgerald received prizes for the most comical costumes. Old fashioned games were enjoyed. The house was cleverly decorated in keeping with the Halloween season. The same idea was carried out in the refreshments.

Guests from Cypress were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dooling, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. Felton Doss, Mr. and Mrs. Lydie Paisley, Mrs. Vernon Snell.

MODERN APPLIANCES SIMPLIFY GRID WORK

It takes a lot of queer gadgets and some peculiar activities to put together a football team that will be toasted from week to week. Some of the gadgets and a few of the actions are shown below. At the top, left, an Ohio State lineman is demonstrating on the blocking dummy how to take out an opponent. Embracing the tackling dummy, left below, is a Princeton lineman, while a coach offers advice. The picture, upper right, looks like "football in a junkyard," but it really is a group of Nebraska backs practicing high knee action, side-stepping and dodging by running over discarded automobile tires. And directly beneath that are more Nebraska backs running under a frame construction that forces them to hit low and stay low. Right, below, a Boston university center is tossing "bull's-eyes" so that he may never make a bad pass in a game.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Jack Sharkey sends his wife flowers on the 16th day of every month . . . that was the date of their marriage. . . . Mrs. Sharkey (her name is Dorothy) used to punch a bit herself . . . on a typewriter in a Boston business office . . . the Sharkeys have three children . . . Dorothy, 6 . . . Marilyn, 5 . . . Jack, Jr., 3 . . . Mrs. Sharkey does not like to see Jack fight . . . but he takes her to see other guys beat each other up . . . Jack holds Dorothy's hand during the love scenes when they visit a movie . . . The Sharkeys usually go for a long drive on Sunday afternoons.

SHARKEY HELPS

Jack Sharkey once helped Jack Dempsey to win a fight by dropping his hands and appealing to the referee. Dempsey cracked him on the chin and that was that. Now Sharkey may help the Mauler to win another by the beating he administered to Carnera. It is possible that the treatment Sharkey gave the Ambling Alp may have softened the big fellow up for Dempsey. Of course, then it may be that Dempsey still may be able to take care of his own softening up process. He used to be a great hand for that. Then, too, Uscudun may soften up the Vast Venetian when they meet Nov. 13.

WINTER OUTLOOK

The chances for some right merry chine-frosting parties this fall and winter seem bright. While, and if, Dempsey goes after Carnera, Mickey Walker will be trading unfriendly slaps with a chap named Schmeling, who is said to be world champion outside of New York state.

SHARKEY BACK

Sharkey is back in the picture by virtue of his manhandling of the Man Mountain. But should the Old Man Mauler blast the big boy into the next county, he would stand ahead of the Boston Squire for the big shot at the winner of the Schmeling-Walker bout.

LIKELIHOOD

There is hardly any likelihood of Mickey Mouse beating the delegate from Rhineland. Schmeling is too strong, too big, too rugged, too persistent and hits too hard.

LISTEN TO HIM!

Not only that, but Schmeling is rapidly becoming a pretty smart gee. Against Walker, too, he would have the overwhelming advantage of youth and condition.

It is true we thought Sharkey would murder the Mick, and he didn't do a great deal of murdering. But wait—we picked the Cardinals!

We picked the Cardinals to win in seven games.

TEXAS EXAMPLE

Two high school football teams in Texas, Plainview and Slaton, battled fiercely to a seven-point tie the other day. Plainview won the game. Officials of the scholastic league, of which the two teams are members, ruled Plainview winner because the Plainview players had penetrated the 20-yard line of their opponents more often than the lads from Slaton had been able to reach the Plainview 20-yard line.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The other day several golfers in Cleveland conceived the idea of having golf balls made according to the large and heavier pattern than probably will be put into play in 1932 by the U. S. G. A. . . . the ball having the weight of 1930 and the circumference of 1931, the same weight, 1.62 ounces, as the ball which prevailed before 1930 with the 1.68 inches circumference . . . they found it was great in the wind and on the greens, obviating the complaint that was aroused throughout the country by the 1931 ball.

GARDEN GROVE, ORANGE TEAMS CLASH FRIDAY

ORANGE LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Brea-Olinda	1	0	0	1.000
Anaheim	1	0	1	.750
Orange	0	0	1	.500
Garden Grove	1	1	0	.500
Tustin	0	1	0	.000
Huntington Beach	0	1	0	.000

*The games counted half-a-game won and half-a-game lost.

John Ward's hot Peppers from Garden Grove, conquerors of Tustin, occupy the Orange County league football limelight again tomorrow.

The Argonauts invade Orange to play Coach Stewart White's potential champions. If the Wardmen get over this hump they are not likely to be stopped the rest of the season.

Coach Ward is none too optimistic, however. Successive games with Anaheim and Tustin took a lot from his little squad and although the "Peppers" three cripples, Ray Hapes, Roy Ward and Harold Smith, are listed as likely starters it is problematical how long they'll last against Orange's rugged line.

Orange, tied by Anaheim last week, starts a revamped lineup against the Peppers. Walt Meyer, who has been at fullback, will play the man-around position. Paul Spennetta goes back to tackle. Gunther probably will replace Danielson at end. Coach White is trying desperately to speed up his offense, the Orange defense leaving little to be desired.

Tustin also will send a much altered lineup against Dick Glover's Anaheim Colonists at Tustin in a game that will be broadcast by KREG, beginning at 3 o'clock.

Dean Benton, the Farmers' husky fullback around whom most of Coach Cole's offense was constructed, is definitely out of action for three weeks with torn hip muscles. Earl Horton a tackle, has been moved into the Tustin backfield where he has looked impressive in practice. Arundell, an end, will be at tackle. Lindsey, a halfback, at quarter, and Seacord, a lineman at halfback.

Carlson and Arnett will be at end, Brown and Arundell at tackle, Collins and DeBrouwer at guard. Handy at center, Lindsey will start at quarter, Seacord and McInteer at halfback, Horton at full.

Anaheim has been brushing up its offense this week so Coach Glover hopes for more ground-gaining tomorrow. The Colonists are well on their way to a unique scoring record. They've played four games and made but one touchdown, yet lost but once while converting their lone score into a victory.

Anaheim-Tustin and Orange-Garden Grove games are the only conference contests scheduled. Brea-Olinda and Huntington Beach, drawing byes. Brea-Olinda will play Santa Ana H's reserves today at Brea. Newport Harbor goes to Huntington Beach tomorrow.

S. A. Gridmen Reunite Tonight

VETERANS FROM 38 ELEVENS TO ATTEND DINNER

Thirty-eight years of Santa Ana high school football players will kick their feet under a groaning banquet table at Ketner's cafe tonight in the first reunion of its kind ever held here.

Veterans will attend from the earliest Saint squad of 1893, which played its games on what then was a stubble field at the corner of Sycamore and Church streets, present site of the Y. M. C. A. So will members from every other eleven down through the years to the current 1931 machine, conqueror of San Diego last Saturday in one of the most thrilling Saint battles of all time.

No particular program has been arranged, but after dinner some of the "old timers" will be called on for a few remarks about football or anything that may fit their fancy. Santa Ana is rich in football tradition, so subject matter promises to be plentiful. The dinner was originally scheduled for the cafeteria at Frances Willard junior high school, but was moved to Ketner's cafe for no other reason than to permit the "veterans" to smoke while they reminisce.

Dinner tickets cost 50 cents. Gastronomic activities begin at 8:30. Anybody who ever played football—good, bad or indifferent—for Santa Ana high school is urged to join the party. Committeemen include Chairman Warren Hillyard, Terry Stephenson, Victor Walker, Chas. Yount, William Spurgeon and Clarence Tedford.

Trojan Hoop Men Report For Practice

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—Getting off to an earlier start than usual, basketball practice was opened at the University of Southern California this week. Thirty-five candidates for the varsity five are now working out each afternoon under the direction of Assistant Coach Forrest Twogood, who will handle the squad until Head Coach Sam Barry finishes up his labors under Howard Jones as assistant football mentor.

Absence of Wilbur Caldwell, all-coast guard for the Trojans for two years, who did not return to the university this semester, hurt S. C. somewhat, but Twogood and Barry believe they have a great prospect in Ellsworth Vines, the national tennis champ. Vines is out for center, and indications are that he will have no trouble winning a regular berth on the team.

Jerry Nemer, Jack Gardner, Bill Pierce and Frank Hopkins are other leading candidates with Vines for positions on the front line of the Trojan attack. Cliff Capps and Clarence (Sonny) Anderson are the only outstanding guard candidates at present. When Bob Erskine and Roderick Thompson finish playing football, they will enter the lists as good guard material.

BEAR YEARLINGS STRONG

BERKELEY, Oct. 22.—The University of California freshman football team, undefeated in four starts, has scored a total of 123 points to 6 for its opponents. The yearling goal line has not been crossed in the last three games.

ALONG THE SIDELINES

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 22.—Athlete of the past four years, is a very capable substitute for Bowles. Robert, who played lightweight football at Los Angeles III, is a good passer and a fair ball carrier.

Charles Finnegan, 180, from Erick, Okla., first string quarterback is a good steady player who seldom flashes but does all of his work fairly well. Edward Strong, Palo Alto, son of a Stanford professor, is also little behind Finnegan in ability.

Marv Kahn, 170, power forward from Los Angeles, is a good steady player at left end—a fair pass receiver and a good defensive man. The right flank will be occupied by Alfred Abrahamson, 197 pounds, from Eureka, who only reported two weeks ago, was shifted from tackle to end.

Robert Durkee, San Francisco, will also see action at the right end. The Cardinal freshmen have two big and powerful tackles in Edward Lettunich of San Francisco, who weighs 195 pounds and Milton Keller, of Los Angeles, who tips the beam at 210 pounds. Robert Steiner, San Bernardino, and James Savage, San Bernardino, are Bradshaw's best reserves. Steiner never played high school football and Savage has been hurt most of the season but is expected to be in shape for the Southern California game. John Mottram, 172, San Francisco, and Albert Semmelroth, 177, Portland, Ore., are the Papoose guards. Mottram is probably the best lineman on the squad. Alden Van Kirk, first string center from Piedmont, has been out with injuries for three weeks but is expected to start Saturday.

Notre Dame, Pitt Battle On Saturday

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Two undefeated, unscathed upon eleven square off against each other when Notre Dame meets Pittsburgh before a crowd of 40,000 at South Bend Saturday.

Pittsburgh comes west for the second time this year, having previously defeated Iowa, 20-0, at Iowa City. The Panthers have rolled up 147 points in four games and have not had their goal line crossed.

The Pitt game marks the second of Notre Dame's four hardest battles. The first was the Northwestern game which ended in a deadlock. If the Irish get by Pitt, then they do not have another crucial game until Southern California's high-powered scoring machine comes to South Bend, November 21. The last difficult game for the Irish will be the season's final against Army at New York November 28.

PASADENA HERE TOMORROW FOR CLASS B GAME

By JACK PEGUES

Hopes that the Santa Ana high school Class B footballers will be able to "take" the Pasadena middleweights here tomorrow in their second league start were given a rude knock today when it was announced that Santa Ana's two ace backfield men, Russell Cochems and Claire Preininger, probably would be unable to play.

Cochems suffered a wrenched knee in the San Diego game and Preininger a broken nose. Cochems' knee is still stiff and sore and the muscles have not healed sufficiently to permit to take part while at least another week is required for Preininger's nose to mend before even trusting it to a nose guard.

So as to better utilize his slower driving and more inexperienced backfield, Coach Clyde Patton has taught them a group of trick reverses and spin plays that may catch the visitors sleeping. Patton has also switched Jerry Crawford, heavy end, to right half where he is using his great weight to good advantage. Major Anderson has been shifted from second string right half to regular fullback in place of Cochems while Weston Sprague is co-holder of left half with Harold Daley. Fleet Billy Quon will call signals with Ernest Acker alternating.

Wing positions are still troubling Patton. Herb Woodyard is first choice on the right side but the other end is a toss-up between Bob Wimbush, Vic Mossberg and Lou Holmes. Wimbush is the best passer, Mossberg is the best runner and Holmes is the best blocker.

Fred Southworth and Howard Rash are outstanding on the line with Harold Youel, center, and Jimmy Klepper, tackle, coming in for compliments also.

Tomorrow's game not only will reveal the ability of the Saint reserve strength but also determine whether Santa Ana will get any place in the Coast league this fall.

MODEST PLAYER

Mrs. William M. Sheddson was the only contestant in the 1931 U. S. women's tennis championship who wore stockings on the courts.

PIN CHAMPS HERE FRIDAY

M. H. Case, left, and Emil ("Cappy") Ricks, Arizona bowling champions, who appear here tomorrow night at 8:15 in a 10-game match against Harry Gaspar and Henry Christman, Orange county pin-topping aces. The contest will be conducted under the auspices of the Uniformed Bodies of Scouts No. 41. Case and Ricks, who recently scattered 1431 maps in three games, are on a nationwide tour. They hail from Phoenix.

Trojan Football Squad Heads For Berkeley Battle

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—Coach Howard Jones will take 39 Trojans north tonight to meet the University of California at Berkeley Saturday, spending Friday at the Castledown Country club for a rest and light workout. The Southern California aggregation is expected to win, but not by any 7-0 score, such as was turned in last year.

DONS PRACTICE RAGGEDLY WITH PASADENA NEAR

With only two drills remaining in which to smooth out a raggedness due to unfamiliarity with various plays, a somewhat disturbed group of Santa Ana Junior college gridmen buckled down to work today for Pasadena's undefeated Bulldogs, who come to Poly field Saturday expecting an easy victory in their third round of Southern California Junior college play.

Santa Ana's unfamiliarity with plays, clearly shown in practice yesterday, has been due to changes made in the Don lineup because of injuries. Only four or five plays were executed in which every man carried out his assignment properly.

Paul Jungkeit, running guard, who broke a rib at Compton, has been out of suit for three days. He is expected to be in condition to alternate with Wayne Bartholomew at right guard Saturday, however, in order that Bartholomew may go to center.

Shifted from end to tackle to replace Captain Mike Santa Cruz, definitely out with an injured ankle, Lucius Conkey teamed with Harry Clayton at the right and left tackle posts, respectively, on offense yesterday, and two non-regulars, Garth Olsen and Melvin Maxwell, were used at guard. Paul Bruce was at center. Fred Brook and Harold Spangler were the wingmen.

This line, of course, will not start against Pasadena, but the cream of it will be used. Clayton, Conkey and Bruce are in line for starting positions, while Olsen, despite the fact that he has been out of drill for the past few weeks with two broken ribs, may get the call at guard, replacing Gil Kluthe.

Bear-Trojan Game Begins At 2 P. M.

BERKELEY, Oct. 22.—The California-Southern California football game Saturday will start on the late fall schedule introduced with success at California games last year, with the kickoff slated for 2 o'clock instead of 2:30, Willard Wilde, California athletic manager, announced today.

S. A. FAVORITE OVER PASADENA IN PREP GAME

By GRIDDER

Despite cautious Coach "Tex" Oliver's caustic warning that his squad is overconfident and "quite likely to come home with a headache and a 12-0 defeat," Santa Ana's Saints will be heavily favored to win their second straight conference football game from Pasadena Saturday afternoon.

Pasadena's second record, while defensively impressive, hardly compares with that of the Walnut street institution which is still league and non-league starts. The Bulldogs doubtless will prove troublesome, especially early in the game, but do not figure to stop the winning streak of the well-groomed Saint machine.

Pasadena opened its schedule against Cathedral high school, one of the new Los Angeles institutions, and was defeated, 19-6. The next week Coach John Thurman's charges put over a victory, beating Woodrow Wilson H. I. of Long Beach, 6-0. Then came two Coast Prep league battles, the first with San Diego which was lost, 13-2, and the second with Fullerton, which also was dropped 13-0.

Gave San Diego Battle

The San Diego affair probably was Pasadena's best showing. Coach Thurman has his men fired up for the Hilltoppers and the first half ended 0 to 0. During the third quarter, a couple of Pasadena guards broke through San Diego's bulky line and threw Beeler, who was attempting to get away a punt, behind San Diego's goal for a safety. Pasadena couldn't stand prosperity, however, and the Hilltoppers pushed across two touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

Coach Bill Foote, assistant to Oliver who does most of the scouting for the home outfit, reports Pasadena has a sizeable, scrappy set of linemen who are capable of extending the Saints. Captain Al Wetstling, center, is the backbone of the defense, although Foote also highly recommends Louie Vengoni and Ray Pyle, Pasadena's tackles. None of the regular Pasadena backs—Quarter Howard Haradon, Fullback Stan Rildoran and Halfbacks Jack Atkinson and Bill Duncan—have been particularly impressive offensively but are highly regarded defensively.

Coach Oliver has been giving his Saints plenty of line scrimmage this week, but claims the work of his regulars has been

OREGON DEFEATS IRKS ALUMNI AT WASHINGTON

BY JAMES S. SHEEHY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—The anvil chorus from Il Trovatore was a mere tinkling cymbal compared to the din that must have been heard by Coach Jimmie Phelan after Washington was defeated 13 to 0 by Oregon.

Washington supporters frankly were tired of being defeated by Oregon. It was the fourth successive win. The Huskies have not scored a point in four games.

Enthusiastic alumni and students allowed themselves to be fanned into an early season frenzy that the Huskies probably would be the coast champions of runner-up. It had only enthusiasm as its foundation for it certainly was asking too much of Coach Phelan to send a team to the coast championship in two years. His material was only average and his system intricate. Ordinarily it takes three years for a coach to install his system and build a creditable team.

The moaning after the Oregon game was most mournful. Many fans said Washington was robbed by the officials; that Watts' near touchdown pass to Bailey was thrown out or beyond the line of scrimmage and that Bledsoe did not run out of bounds prior to scoring a touchdown for the Huskies. The game, however, was in the hands of competent officials. All border-line plays are debatable. The moaning only proved once again that if a team loses the coach is a bum, even though his past record is excellent. At least in the minds of many enthusiastic alumni who thought is "we got it!" The late and beloved Knute Rockne knew it so well that he referred crisply and often to "alumni coaches" as the bane of a mentor's life.

"Doc" Spears was supremely tickled to beat Washington. His inexperienced sophomore team came through magnificently and expressively. Mike Mikulak, Oregon fullback, played one of the greatest defensive games seen since George Wilson and Ernie Nevers used to crash in Stanford-Nevada tilts. It is said that Oregon will have a great team next year, since the present freshman eleven is potent and, perhaps, can beat the varsity. "Butch" Morse, Art Clarkson, Stan Kostka, Elmer Brown and George Pepinjack are star freshman backs who may be heard from on the varsity next year.

Graduate managers of several coast conference football teams are just about agreed that radio broadcasting cuts into attendance figures. They say many fans remain at home who, ordinarily, would turn out for the contests. It may come before the conference officials this winter. Opponents of broadcasting say all it affords is a little general publicity and, perhaps, general boosting of football.

THE INCOMPARABLE GROVE

Robert Moses (Left) Grove of the Athletics is the only left-handed pitcher in American league history who has been able to complete a run of more than 12 victories. Grove registered 16 in a row.

Beach City May Ask Bond Of New Business Firms

FLY BY NIGHT DEALERS UNDER INVESTIGATION

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 22.—Newport harbor is likely to be one of the ports to be visited by the frigate "Constitution," known as "Old Ironsides" next summer if a campaign to bring the famous old U. S. naval ship to the Pacific coast is successful.

The Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce is taking part in the campaign to have the "Constitution" ordered to the Pacific coast. The Los Angeles chamber and other large coast chambers of commerce from San Diego to Puget Sound are also participating.

It is planned to have the ship at Los Angeles harbor for the Olympic games, July 30 to August 14, and it would probably anchor off Newport shortly before that. After the Olympics it would go to San Francisco for the British-American sports there, and later to Portland, Seattle and other northwestern ports.

If possible the "Constitution" will be here for the 1932 Tournament of Lights. A discussion of possible dates for that event took place at yesterday's meeting of directors of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

After a discussion of trade licenses, President L. L. Isbell named Charles H. Way as chairman of a committee to report on the feasibility of requiring those starting in business here to put up a bond that they will stay in business for a certain length of time. Other cities have such requirements, it was said, and this city is hit harder than most others by those who come trying to get the cream of the business, then close up, it was declared.

The chamber decided to recommend that the city council make an appropriation to the Harbor Legion post for participation in the Armistice day parade at Santa Ana.

Spanish Village Patios Shown In National Magazine

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 22.—In the November issue of the American Home a story by Anderson McCully, "Plants for Patios, Apartments in Selection and Use," is illustrated with pictures of San Clemente patios showing the use of plants giving character to the enclosed Spanish garden.

Pictures of the Mrs. Stella Easley, Ole Hanson and Hamilton H. Cotton patios are used to illustrate the interesting article.

GIRL SCOUTS GIVE PLAY FRIDAY NIGHT

TUSTIN, Oct. 22.—In order to raise funds for the year's expenses, the Holly troop of Girl Scouts, will present an interesting evening of entertainment at 7:30 o'clock Friday in the grammar school auditorium. Miss Kathleen Helm is captain of the troop and has been rehearsing the 30 girls who will take part in the program.

A one-act play, "Ghosts," written by Betty Lou Hannaford and Betty Jean Hendricks, both sixth grade students, will be the first number on the program. This will be followed by a vaudeville act, in which children are dressed as trained animals. There will be several readings, dances, songs, an educational film and a five-reel comedy movie, "The Wizard of Oz," with an all-star cast. Wilbur Hoke will operate the motion picture machine.

SISTER SUCCUMBS

STANTON, Oct. 22.—Mrs. S. M. Carter received a telegram from Leavenworth, Kans., telling of the death of her sister, Mrs. M. L. Carter, who died October 18. The two sisters married brothers at a double wedding 26 years ago. The father of the two brothers, M. Carter, is a resident of Riverside and at present is spending a couple of weeks with his son at Stanton.

CLUB MEMBERS CAROLYN WHITE OF PLACENTIA BECOMES BRIDE VISIT STUDIOS OF C. GARDINER

PLACENTIA, Oct. 22.—The studios of Frank Tenney Johnson, painter of western scenes, and of Eli Harvey, sculptor of animals, both widely known artists, were visited by Round Table club members at Alhambra yesterday.

After the short talk in the studio, which followed service of punch and wafers by Mrs. Harvey in the dining room, guests visited the grounds of the Harvey home.

Members then walked a few hundred feet to the studio of Frank Tenney Johnson. To the accompaniment of continued conversation, Johnson began work on a painting he had sketched in before the guests arrived. On the walls of the studios were the originals of pictures that have been reproduced in recent magazines. After working long enough on his sketch that his audience might see how he placed the colorings and shadows, and after painting the "rocks" of the mountain scene, he displayed a large number of his new paintings.

Mrs. Johnson, assisted by the hostesses, served tea after a short musical program, where James Neill North, a lyric tenor, gave several of Mrs. C. H. Seaman's compositions with Mrs. Seaman accompanying.

Mrs. W. J. Carmichael announced the next meeting at El Rodeo Riding club at 6 p. m., November 4. Hostesses were members of the executive board, the program committee and Mrs. C. H. Seaman, a cousin of Mr. Harvey. Mrs. Louis Jacobson is president, Mrs. L. T. Gillilan is vice president, Mrs. Thomas Taylor, second vice president. Other members of the board and program committee are Mrs. L. T. Johnson, Mrs. Gerald Young, Mrs. T. L. McFadden, Mrs. William Wallop, Mrs. Arthur Staley, Mrs. W. J. Carmichael, Mrs. Frank Rosapaw and Mrs. Melvin Salveson.

LA HABRA, Oct. 22.—Four hundred and fifty guests witnessed one of the most charming weddings of the fall season, which was solemnized last night at 8:15 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church in Fullerton, when Miss Carolyn White, of La Habra, became the bride of Carol Gardiner, of Fullerton.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and large baskets of baby chrysanthemums in the golden yellow and orange shades, combined with goldenrod. The bride was given in marriage by her father, A. H. White, and the Rev. Graham Hunter read the single ring ceremony. The wedding music was played by Miss Agnes Croner, of Los Angeles, music teacher of Miss White. Mrs. Mary Bostwick, of Los Angeles, an aunt of Miss White, gave two solos.

The bride was gowned in a white satin dress, trimmed with chantilly lace, with high neck line and closed by fitted skirt. She wore a white cap veil which fell in points around her shoulders. A crescent of pearls, a treasured pin belonging to her mother in her girlhood days, was worn on her gown. Her bouquet was an old fashioned one made up of gardenias, lilies of the valley and yellow rose buds.

Attendants of the bride were Mrs. A. H. White Jr., of Los Angeles, matron of honor, who wore coral tie and carried Talisman roses and delphinium. The bridesmaids were attired in turquoise gowns with brown accessories and carried pom-pom chrysanthemums in yellow and orange shades. They were Mrs. Newell Christianson, of Anaheim; Mrs. Grant Cooper, of Manhattan Beach; Mrs. Roy Cedarquist, of Alhambra; Miss Lisa Schulte, and Miss Alice Wales, of Fullerton.

Donald Gardiner served his brother as best man and the ushers were Newell Christianson, Grant Cooper, Albert White Jr., LeRoy Cedarquist and Harrison Giddings, of Fullerton.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in La Habra Heights, to which 150 relatives and close friends of the two families were invited. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table. Mr. and Mrs. John Gardiner and Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Williams assisted Mr. and Mrs. White in receiving.

After a short honeymoon, the young couple will make their home in La Habra Heights.

Mrs. Gardiner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. White, who have lived in La Habra for the past 18 years. She attended the La Habra grammar school and was a graduate of the class of 1928 of the Fullerton Union High school. After a year at Fullerton junior college she continued her study of art in Los Angeles.

Mr. Gardiner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gardiner, of Fullerton, and is a graduate of Fullerton Union High school and Fullerton Junior college. He is employed by the Standard Oil company.

BREA, Oct. 22.—Favorable progress in the matter of retaining for Brea the full time service of the Pacific Electric Railway company was reported at yesterday's chamber of commerce meeting by Walker Davis, chairman of the committee appointed for that purpose. The committee, comprising Davis, W. D. Shaffer, H. A. MacClatchie, Mayor Ted Craig and John Cox, met Tuesday afternoon with a committee from the Lions club headed by E. H. Peterkin, in the directors' room of the First National bank, where they conferred with representatives of the railway company.

From the railway company officials the combined committees secured the agreement to withhold for the present the filing of the application for reduction in service to Brea. Other meetings are to be held and other data gathered which, it is the opinion of the committees, will result in the railway company continuing to give this city full time service.

A plan endorsed by the chamber of commerce to utilize the Pacific Electric railway shipping department more freely will be presented to Brea merchants this week. This provides for a 30-day trial wherein the merchants will be asked to agree to have the bulk of their shipping done over the electric line.

Discussion was held of the distribution of the proposed $20,000 improvement bond issue and the chamber voted to call a mass meeting for Monday night, place to be named later, when city trustees will be invited to present their plan for expending the money in question in case the election proves favorable to the movement. It was contended that inasmuch as the bond issue was proposed almost solely as a relief measure for the unemployed, the sums to be expended for material and labor should be fixed as nearly as possible before the endorsement of the movement and the people are asked to vote upon it.

A report given by President Harlan LeGro on the work of the membership committee, headed by Mrs. W. E. Hurst, indicates that memberships to the chamber are being renewed rapidly and that new members are being added.

George Kellogg, secretary of the Imperial Highway association, announced the meeting of that body in the Masonic hall on the evening of October 30 with the ways and means committee of the Brea Women's club serving the dinner. Something of a surprise, Mr. Kellogg said, was to be given in connection with the dinner and program. Residents of Cedar street, Kellogg said, were being sent special invitations to attend this meeting.

PASTOR TELLS INFLUENCE OF 'Y' IN RUSSIA

FULLERTON, Oct. 22.—The Rev. Graham Hunter, pastor of the Fullerton Presbyterian church, in his talk last night on "The Youth Movement in Russia," commented on the influence which the Y.M.C.A. had had in the teaching of the boys and girls in Russia and that one organization of youths were known as the Pioneers, the same as in America.

This instruction of Russian youth in many instances has been taken almost exactly from the American Y.M.C.A. work with the exception that religion is eliminated from the instruction, he said. The youths were particularly fond of volleyball as a game and this word was used the same as in America, having been introduced many years previous by a Y.M.C.A. secretary, the Rev. Mr. Hunter said.

To him, the pastor said, the spirit of militarism of the youth was inconsistent with Communism. He said that all Russia feared the rest of the world and that all of the young men were compelled to undergo military training and that about 60 per cent of the girls took this training also.

Education was being stressed by the Communists. In 1924 there were 4,000,000 students in all of Russia. In 1930 this number had increased to 12,000,000. The instructions in the universities are purely technical and not of a research nature. The idea of the instructors is to teach the students "how to do things."

The pastor returned yesterday morning from San Francisco and vicinity where he made eight talks in three days. Among the groups which he addressed on the subject of Russia while north were the San Francisco Theological seminary of the Presbyterian church, Community school, Pacific School of Religion, Mt. Tamalpais Boys' school and the Head School for Girls in Berkeley.

Mesans Plan Tom Thumb Wedding at School on Friday

COSTA MESA, Oct. 22.—The local P. T. A. will sponsor a "Tom Thumb Wedding," Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the grammar school auditorium. The wedding will be a replica of a society wedding, with 75 tiny tots of the Mesa playing the parts. All will be dressed in appropriate costumes.

P. T. A. TOLD SAFETY RULES FOR CHILDREN

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 22.—George Peterkin of the state highway patrol was the speaker at the local P. T. A. regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the grammar school auditorium. Interesting data was given, showing the work of the highway officers to reduce accidents on school buses.

Previous to the opening of school 108 school buses were examined, and only 16 of the entire number were found to be 100 per cent efficient; 45 lacked good brakes; 25 carried no fire extinguisher; 37 lacked the school bus sign; 15 were minus tail lights; 14 without working tail lights; 12 had windshield wipers lacking; and 51 had headlights out of order, Peterkin said.

H. O. Ensign, school superintendent, explained the new report card. Mrs. Florence Summers, Orange county P. T. A. citizenship department chairman, announced a series of educational programs for the county, three for the southern portion and three for the northern. The southern towns selected are Newport Beach, Laguna and Huntington Beach, November 4, at the Newport grammar school auditorium, Dr. W. F. Adams, of the University of California, will lecture on "World Economics."

BREA P. T. A. PLANS DINNER FOR TEACHERS

BREA, Oct. 22.—At the business meeting of the Brea P. T. A. arrangements were made for a pot luck dinner to be given in the high school cafeteria on the evening of November 3 with teachers of the grade schools and the high schools as honor guests. Mrs. Frank Bickel was made general chairman of arrangements for this dinner which will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

A report from the school cafeteria revealed that since the opening of the fall term only four children have been assisted in the matter of milk and food rations, these being items which the P. T. A. takes care of from a special fund provided for that purpose.

Following the business meeting at which the president, Mrs. Winnifred Crabb, presided, Miss Helen Henigan, program chairman, introduced Dr. K. H. Sutherland, head of the county health department, who spoke on "The Health of the Child," dealing particularly with the prevention and care of colds.

Grade pupils from Miss Evelyn Towne's room presented a pretty three-act pirate play, introducing in a most ingenious manner some of the simple rules of health which children should practice. A group of boys under the direction of William Schlechte, instructor in manual training at the Brea grammar school, entertained with pyramid building. Miss Cecilia Templeman accompanying at the piano.

The next meeting, November 3, will bring Dr. Belle-Wood Comstock, of Los Angeles, who will speak on "The Child's Home."

ACID-GASOLINE Hastens Discard!

Many an automobile that should have delivered thousands of extra miles is hastened to the discard by the corroding, metal-eating ravages of acid gasoline.

The process of corrosion is slow but sure. It attacks the cylinder walls, the pistons and piston rings, the valves and valve stems, the carburetor needle valve, the crankcase... all metal parts with which it comes in contact.

No wonder your car loses its snap and pep and power, uses more gasoline, costs more for repairs and upkeep as it grows older!

But it is no longer necessary for you to use acid gasoline. You now have an infallible acid test that positively proves the absence of metal-eating acids. It is the violet color of

CHURCH GUILD WILL BUY MILK FOR CHILDREN

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 22.—The regular meeting of the Esther guild of the Methodist Episcopal church was held this week. Hostesses at a 6:30 o'clock supper were Mrs. Emmett Smith, Mrs. Ray Long and Mrs. Fred Dukes.

Bowls of zinnias, nut cups and tall yellow and black tapers carried out the Halloween idea for table decorations.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Percy Prior, Mrs. J. A. Mauerhan, Mrs. Howard Barnes, Miss Velda Barnes, Mrs. L. W. Schauer, Miss Margaret Beatty, Mrs. Albert Schneider, Mrs. Clifton Bryan, Mrs. Conrad Schreff, Mrs. Ralph Chaffee, Miss Marcia Carmichael, Mrs. Fred Dukes, Mrs. Andrew Smiley, Mrs. E. W. Edwards, Mrs. M. R. Sprinkle, Mrs. Irvine German, Mrs. Ruth Hall, Mrs. William Harper, Mrs. S. W. Holt, Miss Lona Holt, Mrs. Wesley Lamb, Mrs. Charles Lake, Mrs. Ray Long, Mrs. Emmett Smith, Mrs. S. C. Oertly and Mrs. Sibyl.

Devotions were led by Mrs. S. C. Oertly and Mrs. Ralph Chaffee offered thanks.

Miss Lona Holt presided at the business session. In place of the planned rummage sale, it was agreed to give clothing to Mrs. W. B. Thomason at the Mexican school. This clothing will be sold to raise funds for the purchase of milk to feed needy Mexican children.

It was decided to send a Christmas box to the Jessie Lee home in Alaska.

Mrs. S. W. Holt read a chapter from the study book, "What Has Happened to America."

Church Section Holds Program

LA HABRA, Oct. 22.—Section two of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church held its regular meeting in the league rooms at the church Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. O. Simmons read the devotional from the fifth chapter of Genesis. The program included a vocal solo by Mrs. E. M. Jackson and a reading by Miss Phyllis Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward W. Perkins.

The balance of the afternoon was spent in sewing patches on overalls, each patch covering a coin. The section is divided into two teams captained by Mrs. C. E. Varney and Miss Grace Fleming. Each team has a pair of overalls to patch. The winning team, at the November meeting, will be feted by the losers. Mrs. W. Harwood was received as a new member.

Mrs. Nellie La Monte, Mrs. P. B. Clark and Mrs. A. C. Dunavant served refreshments at the close of the afternoon to the 18 members present.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Benefit Show Of Buena Park Post, Auxiliary Success

BUENA PARK, Oct. 22.—The American Legion and the Legion auxiliary staged a successful benefit show in the local theater last night.

The program follows: Joan Gore and Marjorie Ackerman, dancing; cornet and clarinet duet, Everett Johnson and Clarence Fenton; vocal solo, Virginia Orahoad; violin solo, Leon Ramariz; whistling solo, B. E. Lemen; skit, "The Hick Honey-mooners," with the following cast, Mrs. Jaynes as Mary, Mrs. McKenzie as Isabelle, Charlie Eaton as Jerry and Mr. Fenton as passenger.

The proceeds from this show will be used for welfare work.

SAN CLEMENTE CLUB APPROVES BOND PROJECT

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 22.—Approving the $20,000 San Clemente grammar school bond election called for November 3, the Men's club at its meeting on Tuesday night launched a campaign to get out the voters for the Spanish village's first bond election. The purpose of the election is to raise money for the purchase of school lots, the purchase of the school site and building from the city, and to erect needed additions to the present school.

Thomas Murphine Jr., president of the club, appointed a committee to get out the vote on November 3. On the committee are Ed Bartlett, Den Acres, Alex Gajek, Dan Mulherron, A. N. Southwell and Murphine. These men will see that all voters arrive at the polls between the hours of noon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the San Clemente school house.

Dan Mulherron, president of the chamber of commerce, is laying plans to see that a record vote is cast. All civic, fraternal and social organizations will be urged to study the issue at hand to register their approval.

The city council at its meeting on Friday night is expected to pass an amended resolution by which it agrees to deed its right to 20 acres of land to the school district for school purposes.

The club voted to stage a dance at the Social club November 14. Win Keel is chairman of the dance committee with the following members, George Hughes, Tom Halseth, Tim Cleugh.

Flames Destroy House At Mesa

COSTA MESA, Oct. 22.—A four room frame house at the corner of Laguna and Nineteenth streets, until recently owned by Joe Humphrey, of Balboa, burned to the ground last night. The cause of the fire is unknown. The fire was first noticed by neighbors soon after 10 o'clock. The house was occupied. No furniture was saved. The fire truck was not called until the building was in flames.

Unemployed To Canvass Santa Ana For Odd Jobs

JOBLESS WILL PLAN DRIVE AT MEET FRIDAY

A city-wide program enlisting co-operation of home owners and renters to aid in providing odd jobs for Santa Ana's unemployed will be launched in the next few days by the unemployed men themselves, with the assistance of the unemployment relief committee and odd jobs sub-committee, according to a statement issued today by J. W. Estes, chairman of the former, and Reeves Ayimore, chairman of the latter committee.

A meeting of jobless persons will be held in the city hall Friday at 7:30 p. m. when further plans will be made.

The plan of the odd jobs committee is to have these men working to do everything in their power to secure jobs for themselves. To that end personal visits to every home in the city will be made by solicitors with cards of introduction from Mayor John Knox.

The following statement was issued by Estes and Ayimore in connection with the plan.

"TO THE CITIZENS OF SANTA ANA:

"Do not think of unemployment in terms of millions of people out of work, but think of unemployment as a few people out of work in Santa Ana, your own neighbors. Maybe one or maybe two out of every 20 in this city. That is the unemployment problem.

"Put those people back to work and that ends the unemployment problem in our vicinity. Do not worry about other communities. They will take care of their problem in the same way. In every part of the United States the government is speeding up its program of public work wherever this is possible. That means people are going back to work.

"Other communities are doing their part. Local governments are advancing projects and hastening useful enterprises of every sort. That means people are going back to work.

"Now what about you?

Double Value

"Now is the time to build, make additions, improvements, repairs, painting, have odd jobs done around your home. This will increase the worth of your property while materials are low priced. Improve the opportunity to sell or rent and will give a neighbor a job. Study the 50 suggestions that are listed here in Santa Ana who is out of work. Do this and you are doing as patriotic a thing as anyone can do. It is constructive, profitable and friendly. The only useful money is money at work. Put some of yours to work. If you are steadily employed it is your duty to help those who are not.

"The Citizens Unemployment Emergency committee, having been duly authorized by the mayor, will send a number of men out to solicit work of every kind, not for themselves individually, but collectively. All requests of every kind will be gone over by the committee and the one best suited to do the job you want done will be sent to you at a price such as is usually paid for such service, or as may be agreeable to you.

"Please give these men when they call on you the kind of courtesy that you would like to have given to you if you were similarly situated. We bespeak for these men your hearty cooperation in advance, and in their behalf we thank you."

Suggested Work

Repair furniture, re-upholster furniture, refinish furniture, recover mattresses, etc, stain and polish floors, varnish floors, lay linoleum, build shelves, repair auto, build cupboards.

Construct new partitions, repair walls, paper walls, paint walls, renovate plumbing, renovate water supply system, reglaze broken windows, renovate electric light system, install new electric outlets, paint woodwork.

Repair locks, replace broken hardware, repair luggage, construct sun parlor, construct sleeping porch, whitewash outbuildings, repair shades, patch roof, reshingle roof, repair fences.

Paint fences, paint house, paint trim, mend gutters, repair garage, rehange garage doors, construct outbuildings, construct sheds, build clothes reel, build concrete walks.

Cut down brush, plow garden, polish floors, wash windows, clean woodwork, clean wallpaper, wash ceilings, plant flowers, tidy up yard, wash and polish automobile.

The committee asks that citizens check these items in their home and add of others that they may think of that can be done at this time. The phone number of the committee headquarters is 3325.

INDIANS INVITE 'PALE-FACE' FRIENDS TO CEREMONIAL AT RIVERSIDE COUNCIL FIESTA

"Pale-face" friends of the Indians are invited to attend the ceremonial rites and program at the semi-annual convention of the Mission Indians of California at Riverside October 29, when a special day has been set aside for white visitors during the week's sessions, it was disclosed by Mrs. Florence Summers, of Huntington Beach, who has been in charge of welfare work among the Mission Indians during the past nine years.

WARNS AGAINST MAILING MONEY UNPROTECTED

Recent theft of currency from letters today prompted Postmaster Terry Stephenson to urge Santa Ana people to be more careful in the methods used for sending money through the mail.

The government has several well defined methods for transporting money and Stephenson urged that the practice of enclosing currency or coin in letters be discontinued.

"Such practice," he said, "merely places temptation in the path of postal employees and removes the element of safety that is offered through regular practices."

Stephenson pointed out that if speed alone is desired in the handling of mail the government has provided air mail and special delivery. For the maximum of speed a letter may be sent as special delivery air mail and be assured of the speediest transportation possible in its destination. For the additional guarantee of safety, mail may be insured at a small fee in amounts ranging from $50 up to $1000.

The safest method for transporting money, according to Stephenson, is through the use of money orders. The government makes the clerk responsible for cashing money orders and requires absolute identification and the department takes all responsibility for any lost or stolen money orders that are cashed. The use of money orders, Stephenson said, offers a method of tracing them if lost and identification if stolen.

"The government offers safe methods of transporting money," Stephenson said, "and makes an earnest endeavor to recover money sent through irregular channels that is either lost or stolen but public co-operation in the matter of not enclosing currency or coins in letters is urged on the grounds of greater efficiency and safety."

ASSERTS FUND SOLICITORS NOT IN ARMY CORPS

Warnings were issued today by Captain R. D. Yuna, commander of the Salvation Army in Santa Ana, that people pretending to represent the corps have been soliciting funds here, by tambourine collections, but that they are from organizations outside the city.

Captain Yuna said that soliciting of this kind was attempted in Santa Ana as recently as last Monday.

"There has been some soliciting in Santa Ana by people from organizations outside of this city," Captain Yuna stated. "They have a uniform made to resemble the Salvation Army uniform as closely as possible, and they go around with tambourines saying, 'Help the Army.' They leave the impression in the minds of the people that the money goes to the Salvation Army."

"The Salvation Army in Santa Ana does not take up tambourine collections through the business or residential sections of the city," Captain Yuna added.

CITY POLICE DEPARTMENT IS MAKING RECORD

That the Santa Ana police department, under Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard, has been very much "on the job" during the first six months in office of the new chief, is seen in figures compiled from the reports and tabulated at the end of the period.

Although the number of arrests does not necessarily mean good police work, the records show that there have been a total of 51 persons arrested in the past six months charged with possession of liquor, as compared with a total of 45 possession arrests for the entire year preceding Chief Howard's entry into office.

A total of 151 persons have been arrested on drunk charges. There were 351 arrested for being drunk in the year preceding.

Charges Not Reduced

Persons arrested and charged with driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor during the past six months number 23, while only one was arrested during the entire year before last April. This is explained by the fact that until a short time before the present administration, persons arrested on driving drunk charges found themselves facing reckless driving charges when the cases came to court, this being a practice in Santa Ana until about a year ago. Since Howard took office, there has been no reducing of charges from drunk driving to reckless driving and persons so charged were forced to face the charge in court, it is reported.

Other arrests during the six months period included 10 for fighting, 26 for vagrancy, and 12 for other cities.

An increase in the number of speeders arrested in the past year is shown in the figures. During all of the year preceding Howard's term, there were 438 persons arrested on speeding charges. During the past six months, since he took office, there have been 320 persons arrested, indicating that the year's record for speed arrests will probably be the largest in the history of Santa Ana.

Crime on Increase

Crime has been more rampant recently, the figures indicate. During the past six months a total

Darken Homes As Tribute To Edison

Santa Ana paused last night to pay respect to one of the country's greatest men, Thomas Alva Edison.

In response to a request made by President Hoover, lights were switched off in hundreds of homes throughout the city for one minute, at 7 o'clock last night in remembrance of the man who made electric lights possible.

Edison was buried yesterday on the anniversary of the birth of electric globe.

Theaters were also darkened for a brief period during the evening performance as part of the tribute to the great inventor.

ILLITERACY IN ORANGE COUNTY IS DECREASING

Illiteracy in Orange county has fallen off 1.5 per cent in the past decade so that the number of those unable to read or write now is only 2.6 per cent of the total population. It is shown in the analysis of the federal census reports undertaken by the state department of education.

There are 2560 people in the county unable to read or write, the figures show.

Ten years ago, the percentage of illiteracy was 4.1 per cent in Orange county. The present county figure of 2.6 per cent is the same as the average for the entire state. Orange county is listed among the 21 leading counties of the state in literacy.

Mexicans, who form 6.5 per cent of California's population, prevented Orange county and the state from achieving a still more favorable illiteracy rate, the analysis disclosed. Even the Mexican population, however, did not prevent the state from ranking well below the figure of 4.3 per cent for the entire United States.

One of the facts brought out in the survey is the remarkable degree of literacy at Long Beach. The lowest percentage of illiteracy in the United States, five-tenths of one percent, was accredited to the neighboring city. California's smallest county, Alpine, showed the largest illiteracy with 23.6 per cent unable to read or write.

AUTOISTS PAY GAS TAX OF $3,480,487

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 22.—California's gasoline tax for September reflected the ending of the summer tourist season with receipts of but $3,480,487, according to a statement today by H. G. Cattell, member of the state board of equalization.

This is somewhat less than the August tax which totaled $3,550,847.

"The total for the first nine months of 1931 shows receipts from the gasoline tax of $31,866,759," Cattell said, "or $2,184,989 more than the same nine months of last year."

Dinner Party Planned In Observance of Four Birthdays

The month of October is a gala one in the annals of the W. D. Baker family, as Mr. Baker's sister, Mrs. O. E. Davis, 615 French street, for it records the birthdays of four members of that group.

Honoring these birthdays this week, Miss Davis and Mr. Baker entertained informally at dinner, the festivities centering around little Miss Barbara Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Baker, who has just had her second birthday, and Ann Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Harvey, just three years old. In addition, the birthdays of George Baker and Mr. Harvey were celebrated.

Lovely chrysanthemums and two birthday cakes added to the attractive table appointments, and in addition to the family group, covers were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bowen of Los Angeles.

Tustin Home is Scene Of Afternoon Party

The pretty Norbert Lents home on Tustin avenue was the setting for a charming affair Tuesday when Mrs. Lents entertained members of her bridge club. Decorations featured the popular Halloween theme. Baskets of large yellow chrysanthemums were used throughout the rooms.

Results of the afternoon's bridge contest revealed that first and second high scores were held by Mrs. Leland G. Ewbank and Mrs. Cyrus H. Lurker. Mrs. Charles M. Cramer was consoled.

Concluding her hospitality, Mrs. Lents served Halloween refreshments at the card tables.

Club members, other than the hostess, were Mesdames Glenn H. Cane, Leland G. Ewbank, Willard McCain, Paul G. Gillett, Charles M. Cramer and Cyrus H. Lurker. Miss Marguerite Lents, daughter of the home, was a guest of the club.

Presentation of Club Cups Takes Place At Meeting

Members of the Business Girls' club of the Y. W. C. A. who were married during recent months were presented with club trophies at the meeting held Tuesday night in the Y. W. rooms. Presentation followed the dinner meeting held at 6 o'clock.

Those to receive the gifts were Mesdames Vena Belle Bryant Lutz, Mina Harlin Baxter, Louise Proctor Londerback and Marian Smith Hill. Other events of the meeting included the election of Miss Dorothy Lutz and Miss Louise Bryant as co-editors of the "Biz," the club year book. Miss Audrey Chastain, club president, was in charge of the meeting.

The program included a talk by Miss Nancy Elder, club advisor, on her recent tour of Europe. The group then adjourned to the large rooms where Mrs. F. E. Coulter gave another of her talks on "Charm."

Mrs. Hyde Entertains Members of Card Club

Meeting in the pretty home of Mrs. Winslow W. Hyde, 1423 Spurgeon street, members of one of Santa Ana's many bridge clubs met for a very happy afternoon this week.

Preceding the regular game, the hostess served a dessert course at an attractively appointed table, with an orange cloth and napkins serving as a background for the gay Halloween decorations and bright autumn flowers.

Mrs. H. G. Wilson and Mrs. William C. Heinrich received first and second prizes. Other guests were Mrs. Kathryn Marila, and Mesdames Reginald Taylor, E. Voss Harrington, Ben Kaulbars, John Wood, H. C. Kier, B. Harrison Sidman, John Poynt and Holly Markle of Anaheim.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH IS SCENE OF LOVELY EVENING WEDDING

In the Santa Ana Episcopal church where she attended her first church services when she was but a tiny girl, Miss Marcia Keeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Keeler, this city, and Frances Eastroff, daughter of San Francisco, were married last evening at 6 o'clock. The Rev. W. J. Hatter, pastor of the church, read the beautiful ceremony.

Many chrysanthemums and other blooms in yellow and deep rust tones contributed to the effect of the setting near the chancel. Organ selections of romantic charm were played by Dale Hamilton Evans, church organist, who changed the notes to those of Lohengrin's Wedding March for the entry of the bride party.

Miss Keeler, a lovely blond, entered with her father, Mr. L. Keeler. She wore the formal bride costume, with princess-fitting satins in gown of ankle length. Her bouquet was of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The sweeping folds of her long, tulle veil radiated from a cap of pearls which had been worn by her cousin, Mrs. William E. Newcomb, of San Francisco, when she was married two years ago. At this time, Miss Keeler attended as bridesmaid.

Miss Sherill Spurgeon was maid of honor, and was wearing in a modish frock of shell pink crepe with touches of pink velvet. She carried pink roses in the same delicate tint.

The bride's brother, John Keeler, attended Mr. Hazlett as best man.

Following the ceremony, the new Mr. and Mrs. Hazlett greeted the guests at an informal reception, and then adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keeler, 320 East M. Keeler street, where members of the bride party and relatives were served a delectable supper.

The home was brightened with many flowers for the occasion, and bouquets of chrysanthemums and marigolds in which quantities of ferns were intermingled were of especial charm.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazlett left soon after the supper for a honeymoon trip, the bride wearing a smart satin ensemble in tones of brown. Before returning to San Francisco to make their home, the couple will spend some time in this city with Mrs. Hazlett's parents.

The bridegroom is employed with the Linde Air Products company in the Bay city, and he and his bride will make their home at 320 Jones street.

For the past two years the bride has made her home in San Francisco with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Eichbaum. She has a host of friends here where she attended high school and junior college. Mrs. Hazlett is formerly of Oregon.

Those present at the wedding supper were the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Hazlett, Mr. and Mrs. Keeler, Miss Sherill Spurgeon, John Keeler, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Eichbaum, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Betts, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Binford, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon, Lawrence Betts, Mrs. C. C. Fife and son, Hugh Fife.

Columpt auxiliary, U. S. W. V., met in the K. P. hall yesterday for a covered dish luncheon. The day was spent making quilts for a bazaar to be held November 5, 6 and 7.

Those in charge of the luncheon were Frances Moulton, Eleanor Shaw, Katherine Reagan, May Glaze and Anna Palmer. Others present were Mrs. Elizabeth Annin of Fullerton and Mesdames W. L. Phillips and Elizabeth Schmidt of Santa Ana; Oscar Kurtz, William Brown and H. C. Moberly, members of U. S. W. V. Members present included Elvira Kurtz, Estelle Dresser, Frances Dresser, Bertha E. Helmer, Elizabeth Erickson, Marie Lindquist, Bess Moberly, Maude Brown, Emma King Wassum, Emma Kellogg, Effie E. Hawley and Mary E. Cooper and Miss Verena Bates.

An extra meeting of the auxiliary is to be held all day October 23 in the home of Mrs. James Pearson, Fullerton.

Bridge Club Members Meet at Laguna Beach

Mrs. Willard Swarthout of Orange avenue was hostess to members of her bridge club Tuesday afternoon, and chose the sun room of Travaglini's cafe in Laguna Beach for the setting of the enjoyable affair.

Luncheon was served at one o'clock, and the afternoon was spent in the usual manner, with Mrs. Helen Nelson scoring high and Mrs. Oscar A. Carothers, second high. Other players were Mesdames Ernest N. Winbiger, Horace D. Snow, Raymond Marsile, William Mang and Martin Biggs of Long Beach; a guest, Mrs. Sidney Allen; and the hostess.

Convention Reports

One of the main features of the afternoon was the report of the convention, given by Miss Gertrude Montgomery, Mrs. Victor Montgomery, and Mrs. Ray Stedman. Mrs. Montgomery told of the changes in the division by-laws which were accepted at the convention. She was a member of the committee presenting the changes.

Results of the state election were given, and it was announced that Mrs. Stedman was returned to office as flag custodian. Other officers chosen were Mrs. Helena Thorpe Riche, of Los Angeles, president; Mrs. H. C. Booth, Berkeley, first vice president.

The convention was held in the ballroom of the El Tejon hotel in Bakersfield. During the first session, Mrs. J. H. Houghton, second vice president, and Mrs. Alice Turner, chaplain; Mrs. C. B. Price, recorder of crosses; Miss Louise Montgomery, registrar and Mrs. B. E. Tarver, reporter.

During the social hour of the chapter meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess group. Special guests present included Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Hattie E. McCormack, the latter of Berkeley.

Evening Affair Marks Arrival of Silver Anniversary

Celebrating their silver wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schreff, 515 East Camille street, entertained Saturday evening with dancing and bridge in the M. W. A. hall, which had been transformed into a fairy garden of pink and white blossoms by friends of the hosts.

Mrs. Schreff wore a charming gown of flowered lavender georgette, and was assisted by Mesdames C. E. Jasper, Frank Harris, James Province, Henry Pankey, Joe Gardner, Georgia C. Mills of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Hardy Robertson of Garden Grove, who were given in black with pink picture hats.

Guests presented the honored couple with a large silver flower bowl filled with spun glass blossoms, with Wylie Harris making a presentation speech.

Clarence Smith read a group of verses which he had composed for the occasion, depicting the bride's early home in Germany; the bridegroom's home in Missouri; their courtship in sunny California; their marriage, and the arrival of their only child, a son, Henry.

Punch and pink and white ices and cakes were served during the evening and the following were awarded prizes for bridge: Mrs. Lloyd Moffitt of Santa Monica, and James Province, high; and Mrs. Nell Regan and James Armstrong, low. Hardy Robertson of Garden Grove received a special prize.

Sunday Affair

Mr. and Mrs. Schreff received very informally at their home on Sunday, and were assisted by Mrs. Schreff's sister, Mrs. Louis Froster of Orange, and Mrs. Anna Uehlin.

Prominent among the guests were four who had attended the wedding 25 years ago. They were Mrs. Ida Jensen, mother of Mrs. Schreff, Mrs. Froster, her sister, Henry Schreff, Mrs. Uehlin and Mrs. Marjorie Moffitt.

Other guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames Harry Jensen, John Schreff and son Donald, Ed Waite, William Young, Hal Noel, Wylie Harris, Frank Harris, Ernest Adelman, Henry Pankey, Clarence Smith, James Province, R. P. Mitchell, V. Erhardt, Hugo Truemper, C. E. Jasper, James Armstrong, George Jerrett, John Warren, Mesdames George Dixon, Clara Andrews and daughter Ruth, Minnie Young, Rose Young, Allie Cain and Georgia C. Mills, of Santa Ana; and Mrs. Hardy Robertson of Garden Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schreff, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Uehlin and son Louis, and Mrs. Lulu Sacherer and daughters, Lucille and Sophia, and son Albert, of Ojai; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moffitt and son William, Mrs. Ida Morrison and daughter, Margaret, Mrs. Anna Uehlin and Miss Kathryn Schreff, of Santa Monica; Mrs. Ida Jensen, Mrs. May Wing, Mrs. Nell Regan, Mrs. Viola Ristow, Mrs. Lydia Lechtuss, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Froster, of Orange; Mrs. Gladys Jensen of Los Angeles; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Paterson of Huntington Park.

Parents Have Dinner Party in Honor Of Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Orville S. Waters entertained Tuesday evening with a six o'clock dinner, honoring the eleventh birthday anniversary of their daughter, Miss Virginia. The affair was held in their home, 626 South Garmey street.

Autumn leaves and golden rod brightened the pretty home, and a dainty pink and white cake topped with eleven candles was the center of attraction at the dinner table.

Guessing contests, dancing and singing made the evening a jolly one. Miss Marjorie McCune received a futuristic anniversary of their daughter, Miss Virginia. The affair was held in their home, 626 South Garmey street.

Farewell Party Comes As Surprise Planned By Employees

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hockaday, who, with their daughter and son, John and Bobby, plan to leave Saturday to attend the annual convention of the National Standard Parts association at Atlantic City, Ga., was a delightful surprise farewell party held Tuesday night at the Hockaday home, 2426 Heliotrope drive. The self-invited guests were employees of Hockaday, Harlow and Phillips, Santa Ana branch, who with their wives, made all arrangements for the happy evening.

The Santa Anans will travel to their eastern destination via motor, making stops at the Grand Canyon, Ariz., Denver, Colo., Chicago, Ill., and Detroit, Mich. They expect to be home by December 30, returning over a southern route.

PERFECT ICE CREAM

I've got the secret of making perfect ice cream in my mechanical refrigerator. Here it is: Don't stir the cream at all after it is put into the freezing chamber.

Try this recipe for CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM:

2 eggs, whites beaten stiff.
2-3 cup sugar.
1-3 cup water.
1/2 squares bitter chocolates.
1 tablespoon water to melt.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1/2 cups boiled evaporated milk.

Boil the sugar and water until the syrup spins a thread when dropped from the spoon tip. Pour into the stiffly whipped whites and beat until cold. Shave up the chocolate, place in small bowl with tablespoon of water, set in a saucepan of water and stir until melted and smooth. Take out of saucepan, add egg yolks and stir until well blended. Combine chocolate and whipped frostings, add vanilla and whip well to mix. Whip the evaporated milk as thick as possible, combine with the chocolate mixture, freeze as directed.

Freezing is hastened if the bottom of the pan is wet so that it freezes to the bottom of chamber. Place a pan of ice cubes over the lid of the ice cream pan, then set the indicator for lower temperatures and forget about the cream for three hours.

My neighbor has another method for producing smooth vanilla cream. She makes a custard out of 2 egg yolks mixed with 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons vanilla and a pinch of salt, all well beaten, and cooked with 1 1/2 cups of milk. While this is cooling she whips the whites stiff, adds 4 tablespoons of sugar and combines them with a stiffly whipped cup of cream. These two are put into the refrigerator and thoroughly chilled, when chilled the custard is added, turned into the freezing pan, and—

Twice, when frozen to the soft mush stage, the cream is turned into a chilled bowl and well beaten with the egg beater. Last time it is put back into the pan and left strictly alone for four hours.

TODAY'S RECIPE OCTOBER PICKLES

1 bunch small carrots.
4 medium sized onions.
1 cup peeled pearl onions.
2 sweet red peppers, sliced.
1 pint small string beans.
1 small head of cabbage, shredded.

1 small head of cauliflower.
1 bunch of celery, cut fine.
6 green tomatoes, sliced.
2 cups tiny whole cucumbers.
2 cups corn cut from cob.
Salt.

The preparation of vegetables requires the salting of the sliced onions and green tomatoes for an hour, then salt rinsed off. Pre-cooking of the carrots, cut in lengths, the cauliflower in flowerets and small string beans (canned will do) is advised but not to the point of cooking them tender. Arrange the various vegetables in layers in the pickling vessel and use this pickling syrup to cook them.

One-half cup mixed pickling spices, divided and tied in several small bags. One quart cider vinegar, 2 cups brown sugar, about 1/2 cup salt, and the bagged spices. Bring this mixture to a rapid boil, turn over the diced vegetables, boil up, and cook five minutes at a rapid boil. Seal in small jars with a spice bag on top of the pickles in each jar.

Pickles of this type have little food value. Their value lies in their ability to stimulate appetite, a consumption devoutly NOT to be desired by most of us!

In this week's leaflet—COOKING WINTER VEGETABLES—I have included a luscious Onion Pie. You will find this onion pie an unusual vegetable to serve with small steaks or roast beef. The leaflet is free of charge this week, but don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope, will you?

Do you know that perfectly sum'shus salad can be made out of oysters, those handy little canned oysters? That's what we'll have tomorrow.—ANN MEREDITH.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 22.—Mrs. A. J. Kelley and Mrs. Thomas Vickers, of Fullerton, visited Wednesday with Mrs. Carl Johnson at Belmont Shore.

IN FOOTBALL ROLE

Low Ayres, youthful star, who has the principal role in the great football picture "The Spirit of Notre Dame" which opens at the Fox Broadway theater today. The picture also features the famous "Four Horsemen" and is dedicated to the late Knute Rockne.

FAMOUS OLD STORY AT WALKER STATE

Records were made to be broken, but seldom do the makers surpass their own high mark. An exception to this is William Farnum and Tom Santschi now appearing in the all-talking picture "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" the current screen attraction at Walker's State theater.

In this modern version of an old stage classic, these two favorites stage a battle that is a real thriller—a spectacular struggle between two strong men who know how, and are not afraid to fight.

As Glennister and McNamara in the original screening of Rex Beach's "Spillers" Farnum and Santschi put on what has stood for years as the greatest battle in pictures. Many thought that the record would always stand. But after you have seen these same two men wreck themselves and an entire saloon set in the smashing climax of "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" you will agree that William Farnum is still the champion of the screen with Tom Santschi the principal contender.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, Oct. 22.—A letter received from Kenneth Moore, who is studying at the John Brown School for Boys at Silome Springs, Ark., tells of the school. He and Paul Elsner, of Santa Ana, with whom he went east to attend the school, had just enjoyed a motor trip into Oklahoma when he wrote.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hell and family were entertained in Santa Ana in the home of Mr. Hell's mother, Mrs. E. S. Heil.

Ed Moore, who became ill 10 days ago when visiting local relatives, and who has been a patient at St. Joseph's hospital in convalescing and was moved Thursday to the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farrar, at Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodington were Sunday visitors at San Fernando, where they were entertained by Mrs. Woodington's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Clemens.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Moore attended a banquet of the Guaranty Life Insurance company at a Santa Ana cafe. Mrs. Moore and son, Dwane, attended a high school football game in which Harlan Moore played.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hurst and son, of Los Angeles, were week end visitors in the home of local relatives.

LEW AYRES IN FOOTBALL FILM STARTS TODAY

"The Spirit of Notre Dame," Universal's rapidfire football picture which presents Low Ayres in the starring role, is regarded as the screen's most timely and genuinely interesting story of the gridiron. It is booked to play the Fox Broadway theater starting today. It takes advantage of the seasonal football fever.

Ayres, as halfback on the Notre Dame team, is seen in the most active role of his screen career, and one which is in decided contrast to his characterization of the "white trash" boy in "Heaven on Earth."

In addition to the fact that the engaging Lew was recently acclaimed the most popular male star in motion pictures, additional interest is brought to "The Spirit of Notre Dame" by the presence on the screen of an entire team of the most famous football players ever developed at Notre Dame by the late Knute Rockne.

Outstanding among these is Frank Cardone, quarterback for three successive years, and unanimous choice for the All-American team in both 1929 and 1930. Admittedly the greatest backfield combination ever developed in football is Notre Dame's famous "Four Horsemen," and these remarkable players—Elmer Layden, Jim Crowley, Don Miller and Harry Stuhldreher—also appear in the picture.

Other noted gridiron heroes who are also seen Moon Mullins, John O'Brien, Adam Walsh, Buckley O'Connor, Art McManmon, Al Howard and John Law.

BREA

BREA, Oct. 22.—Billy, Hay, Opal Rogers, Mildren Anderson and John Van Tule have been elected as a program committee by the sophomore class of the Brea-Olinda union high school. Francis Cain is president of the class.

Miss Thelma Rankin, daughter of Mrs. H. R. Williams, is attending a business school in Los Angeles. She is making her home there with her aunt, Mrs. George Fontenay.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Stewart visited in Los Angeles Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Halmes, friends of long standing.

J. F. Bergman and Roy Gaudin have returned from a 30-day camping trip in San Diego county in the vicinity of Coyote creek. Each bagged one deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nicodemus have left by automobile for Richmond, Ind., where they will visit Mr. Nicodemus' mother, who is reported ill. They expect to return here about December 1. Mr. Nicodemus having secured a vacation of that length from the Union Oil company.

Mrs. J. H. Greist was hostess

Thursday to members of the art section of the Brea Woman's club, her farewell to them as hostess, since the family is leaving Brea shortly to live in Santa Barbara. Mrs. Greist served a delicate luncheon at which places were laid for the chairman, Mrs. C. C. Crookshank, Mrs. L. A. Sayles, Mrs. R. M. Fleisher, Mrs. L. A. Hogue, Mrs. A. H. Brown, Mrs. Joe Negley, Mrs. A. D. Clayton, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. W. E. Fanning and the hostess.

THE TINYMITES STORY BY IAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The Tinymites had found a boat, with owner who had said, "I'll float you boys out on this quiet stream, if you will all sit still." "That's fine," said Scouty. "You can rest assured that we will do our best. It isn't wise to move around 'cause we might take a spill."

The boat ride that they had was fine. They watched the cattle in a line, swim out across the narrow stream. Said Copy, "Gee, they're strong. I wish that I could swim that fast, but at such speed I'd never last. We'd better get out of their way or we will get in wrong."

The man said, "We'll go back to shore. There really isn't any more to see until the cattle wildly scrambled up on land. It's fun to watch them splash around when they get feet on solid ground." Then, when they docked the boat on shore, the Tinies lent a hand.

They watched the cattle till they cleared the water edge and disappeared back in a clump of great big trees. The Travel Man then said, "Nearby there is a place where you can see a sight that is brand new. Now, thank the boatman for his ride and then we'll move ahead."

They hiked along for 'bout an hour. The Travel Man then said, "Well, our good luck is sticking with us. Look ahead, you Tinymites! Now guess what's hanging on that line. If you guess right, you're pretty fine. To me that is one of the best of interesting sights."

The others then heard Scouty cry, "It's strips of beef, hung out to dry. I've heard how they kill cattle and then cut the meat in strips and hang it out beneath the sun. I'd like some cooked till it's well done. The thought of one big strip of steak just makes me smack my lips."

TO BROADCAST ANAHEIM HIGH GRID CONTEST

Special From Anaheim

BY DON GAISER

Coach Dick Glovers, Colonist, vs. Bill Cole's Tustin Farmers in the football connection to be on tap at the Tustin field Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A unique feature of the game is that it is to be broadcast play by play over radio station KREG, through the courtesy of the Tustin Cement Pipe company.

Last year's Colonist-Farmers resulted in a 20 to 7 win for the Cole boys on the Anaheim grid-iron. By comparative scores, the Colonists should, we're not saying they will, win by two touchdowns. Garden Grove surprised Tustin by a 6 to 0 win, and the Colonists beat the Grovers, 6 to 0.

At any rate the game will be a real fight for the winning team because both teams are known for their fighting spirits.

Although Cole hasn't many boys on his squad they play smart football and do their best against Anaheim. The Colonist institution of higher learning, being the largest of its kind in the league, all of its opponents take great pride and joy in "taking" the locals.

Coach Glover's boys have been improving rapidly since the start of the season and with the addition of Bennie Davis, to the backfield, it is expected to aid the team greatly, especially on defense.

Several other boys are coming along fast, Charley Comstock, Joe Gorsch, Corwin Roquet, and several others are expected to make the so-called "first stringers" extend themselves in Friday's game to retain their regular berths. The entire second team has improved 50 per cent during the last two weeks, which naturally make the varsity boys better; because if they know their places are in danger they will try all the harder.

No Anaheim fellows are on the injured list, this week, which will give the Colonists their utmost strength with which to enter the game.

The Colonists are composed of no one outstanding star, they are a gang of eleven men and their motto is "one for all and all for one." From end to end and the entire backfield is composed of fellows, doing something which has not been done at the Colonist school for years, fighting for their coach, Dick Glover. After polishing and adding to the offense all week, Glover is liable to open the bag, if necessary, and show the boys an array of new plays.

Coach Glover will, in all probability, start the following lineup:

RESIDENT HERE FOR 19 YEARS ANSWERS CALL

Special From Anaheim

Wallace Charles Link, 20, a native of Minnesota but a resident of California for the past nineteen years, passed away early this morning at the Orange County hospital, to which place he had been moved for emergency treatment. On the evening of September 29, while the deceased was riding with a friend, he was the victim of an automobile accident in which he received a fractured right arm. He apparently was improving satisfactorily when unexpected complications developed which resulted in his death.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Link of Anaheim; two sisters, Mrs. Viola Weddell of Yakima, Wash., and Miss Evelyn M. Link of Anaheim; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Link of Anaheim.

The remains are at the Higgenfeld funeral home and the announcement of funeral arrangements is held in abeyance until word is received from relatives residing at a distance.

The accident in which the youth was injured was never reported to either the police station nor to the sheriff's office, it was reported at the Anaheim police station today. It was reported today at the police station that the driver of the car, a youth from Fullerton, whose name was not made public, had been driving in a reckless manner at the time of the accident which caused injuries which resulted fatally. The car turned over after striking a ditch and there was no other car involved in the accident, according to the word of the man who reported the affair to the police station. He said he was the uncle of the deceased youth.

A broken arm which was fractured in three places and which caused a wound which later resulted in lockjaw was said to have been the cause of his death.

ANAHEIM PERSONALS

John Sproule of Missouri has been visiting in the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Swindler on South Palm street, for the past 10 days. Mr. Sproule is an engineer in the United States navy and sailed this morning on the Harvard from San Francisco to spend two years in China.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Thompson of Hollywood are announcing the arrival of a baby daughter born last night in Anaheim sanitarium.

EXTEND PARLEY INVITATION TO TOASTMASTERS

Special From Anaheim

An invitation to hold its first quarterly meeting of 1932 in Anaheim will be extended to the Toastmasters' Club International at its annual convention in Santa Ana Saturday it was learned today.

The invitation will be extended by Paul Demoree, delegate to the convention from the Anaheim club. He will have the support of a delegation of at least 21 members of the local club and a large delegation from the local Toastmasters club, an affiliated club for women, Mrs. D. F. Lehmer, president of the Toasties, is now canvassing the membership in an effort to assure a large delegation at Santa Ana.

The Anaheim Toastmasters' club is one of the oldest in existence and its members feel that it will be an additional argument to bring the next quarterly meeting here in February. If the request is granted present plans are to hold at that time in the high school oratorical contest now being sponsored throughout this district by Toastmasters' clubs.

P. T. A. MEETING

Special From Anaheim

Mr. C. A. Sisson, president of the City Council Parent Teachers' association has called a meeting of the council tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to be held in Fremont cafeteria.

REV. LEDBETTER PRESIDENT OF PASTOR GROUP

Special From Anaheim

Succeeding Rev. Edward Burgi of Salem Evangelical church, Rev. Virgil K. Ledbetter of Calvary Baptist church was elected president of the Anaheim Ministerial union at its annual organizational meeting and luncheon at the Light-Palm cafe Wednesday.

Rev. H. L. Thatcher of the Wesley M. E. church, South, was elected vice president and Conrad Jongsward, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., was re-elected secretary for his sixth term. Elections were by unanimous ballot cast by the secretary following a report of the nominating committee consisting of Rev. J. A. Watson, Rev. B. C. Voll and C. C. Root.

Plans were made for an open forum December 8 to be sponsored by the Evangelical church when Rev. A. F. Newcomb of the Anti-Saloon league, will conduct a round table on the prohibition question. Plans were also furnished for a union Thanksgiving service to be held at the White Temple Methodist church when Rev. D. Howard Dow of the St. Michael Episcopal church will deliver the address. Eight churches will participate in the service.

Introduced by George D. Griffith, local rancher, considerable time was devoted to a discussion of problems related to the delinquent boy and how to bring him into such character building organizations as the Y.M.C.A., B.Y. Scouts, and the Sunday school. As one method of providing boys with a wholesome place to play the union voted to request school officials permission for use of public school grounds after school hours.

Anaheim ministers attending the session were E. Burgi, B. C. Voll, A. E. Sanchez, Ralph W. Lee, Virgil K. Ledbetter, J. A. Watson and Conrad Jongsward of the Y.M.C.A.

TWENTY-FOUR ARE FEE FOR THREE DOLLARS

Special from Anaheim

Low new prices have been set for hostesses entertaining 24 guests at a luncheon, by members of the White Temple Home Missionary society, when they entertained with an economy luncheon yesterday afternoon at the country home of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Dickerson, east of Olive.

Three dollars was the amount established by the hostesses, Mrs. Esther Williamson, Mrs. Anna Lee, Mrs. Mabel West, and Mrs. Jean Young, and was not exceeded. As they charged their guests 25 cents a plate, money was made to turn into the treasury to help the missionary fund.

The hostesses served their guests in gingham dresses and as this was an economy luncheon the guests were gingham too.

The 12:30 o'clock three-course luncheon was served at a long table which was brightened with a large centerpiece of autumn flowers emphasizing the yellow tones. Further decorations were carried out in the hallways with the scattering of pumpkins, cats, and witches over the table, together with tiny yellow roses. Yellow pumpkins bearing each guest's name marked their places at the table.

The courses served by the hostesses consisted of a Waldorf salad, Italian dish, hot biscuits, jelly, pumpkin pie and coffee.

The afternoon was delightfully spent before an open fireplace while the hostesses and guests used the time to complete fancy work and gifts for Christmas. The drawing rooms were profusely decorated with autumn flowers in brown, orange and yellow.

As this was the first of a series of such delightful occasions are promised for the near future.

Included in the luncheon besides the hostesses, Mrs. Dickerson, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. West, and Mrs. Young, and Mrs. Lee were the Mesdames Genevieve Knisley, Mae Tompkins, Ruth Bonney, Evelyn Knipe, Alta Peak, Marie Edwards, Leiva Hoskins, Pearl Davis, Emma Bosserman, Edith Harpster, Nell Tierheimer, Thelma Hein, Esther Twiss, Dora Brown, Emma Hein, Grace Hein, Ethel Cornwell, Ila Rogers, Ethel West, Nellie Kahley, Ethel Wagner, Louise Cheatham, Edna Mathis, and Martha Goodale.

Who are you with? The detective was saying as Peter came within earshot.

"Me?" Peter noted with inward amusement the wide innocence of the blue-gray eyes raised to meet the policeman's gaze. "I'm not with anybody."

She turned backward at the car as if to assure herself that an additional passenger had not somehow been spirited into it.

"Don't be funny. You know what I mean."

The policeman was unimpressed. "Who are you and what are you here for?"

Peter, who regarded himself as immune from surprise at the most unpredictable turns of existence, blinked with amazement at her answer.

"Oh," the strange young woman said airily, "my name is Harris. I'm sister on the Evening Herald, and I've come to get a story from Mr. Vincent about how it feels to be the father of an escaped murderer."

(To be continued)

BEAUTY EXPERT GIVES TIPS TO ANAHEIM GIRLS

Speaking before a large audience composed of members and friends of the Girls' League of the Anaheim high school, Miss Carmoline Carleton, Anaheim beauty expert, gave the first of a series of lectures in the auditorium of the high school yesterday afternoon. Women of Anaheim are invited to attend these lectures without charge. Lectures will be held every afternoon.

"The desire to be beautiful is older and stronger than the desire to be either modest or comfortable," Miss Carleton declared. "Beauty, tended, is like a garden, it sings with glory; neglected, weeds creep in, the garden is no longer a delight and we grieve over it. That a rose should have a weed choking out its beauty—that lovely eyes should be marred by lines—a charming mouth by a double chin or a 'scraggly' throat—is indeed a pity. You may have been born without beauty, but the woman doesn't live who cannot be made pleasant to look upon. Your thought, your impulse, your courage and your whole way of thinking and living are mirrored in your face."

"Everything should be done to enhance the face, but the moment you step over enchantment the effect is grotesque. Artificiality is beauty bankrupt. It is better to have an ugly face than an artificial one. Beauty is power; it opens doors that nothing else can open." The speaker declared that much experience has taught her that only a small percentage of women will give a half hour a day to care of their skin, but if they would give 15 minutes a day as faithfully as they brush their teeth the results would be generous beyond belief.

DARROW USES PICTURES TO PROVE THEORY

Clarence Darrow believes in Evolution. It was this belief that prompted him to defend Scopes in the famous trial in Dayton, Tennessee. He believes that this converted many people to the scientific way of looking at the origin of the earth, the origin of species, and the gradual changes through centuries and centuries which have evolved the present forms of life on the terrestrial speck we call the earth.

However, trials in courts, newspaper articles, books and lectures appeal to and convince only a comparatively few people. The most effective method of bringing any subject to the attention of the millions is through the medium of the screen. Clarence Darrow has taken that method to prove his theory of Evolution. He does so in the feature picture called "The Mystery of Life," which is to play the Fairland theater Friday and Saturday.

Loretta Young has a strikingly different and refreshing type of role in "The Right of Way," which will be shown at the theater in conjunction with the "Mystery of Life" in another one of Manager Earl Yorker's popular double feature bills. In this picture she plays the character of a little French Canadian girl in a remote village near Hudson Bay. Conrad Nagel has the leading male role and Fred Kohler a big part. The film is a stirring powerful drama of the north woods.

MUELLER FUNERAL TO BE ON FRIDAY

Special From Anaheim

Funeral services for Aloph J. Mueller, 52, a resident in this vicinity who died last Sunday morning at the family residence on South Rio Vista road, will be held tomorrow at 1 o'clock from the Zion Lutheran church. The Rev. H. G. Schmeiser, pastor of the church, will officiate and interment will be in the Evergreen cemetery in Los Angeles.

The following neighbors and friends will serve as paybearers: Walter Homing, J. D. Kahlen, William Klausner, Bernhard Schroeder, Henry Stute and William Trapp Jr. Arrangements are in charge of the Higgenfeld mortuary.

CHANDLERS RETURN FROM EASTERN TRIP

Recent vacationers who have returned to the city this week are Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Chandler of 211 North street, who have been gone over a period of six weeks while visiting in Denver, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler through taking the northern route by way of San Francisco and Salt Lake City and returning the southern way, visiting such points of interest as the Grand Canyon and stopping in San Diego for a week to visit relatives,

HORACE MANN SCHOOL PLANS ARE REVEALED

Special From Anaheim

Program for formal dedication ceremonies to be held at the Horace Mann school was announced today by B. P. Mattox, principal of the school. The dedication exercises are to be held the evening of November 29 in the auditorium of the new schoolhouse.

M. A. Gauer, Anaheim elementary school superintendent, will deliver the main address of the evening. He will give an outline of the history back of the building of the school, the reasons for building it and will also discuss the history of the man after whom the school was named. Principal Mattox will also appear on the speaking program.

The newly organized glee club of the Horace Mann school will present a group of numbers at the dedication ceremonies. It was announced. The glee club is under the direction of Miss Alice Harrison, music instructor at the school.

A special feature of the exercises will be a comprehensive art exhibit to be on display during the course of the dedication ceremonies. Arrangements for the exhibit have been made by Superintendent Gauer with a Los Angeles concern.

The winner of a school essay contest being conducted at the school now will deliver his essay at the dedication ceremony, it was announced by Principal Mattox. "Horace Mann" is to be the subject of the essay. Students in the fifth and sixth grades and some in the fourth grades are competing in the contest, which will run until the end of the first week of November.

Announcement of other events to be held in connection with the dedication are to be made later.

SAFETY FACTOR AT DAM TOLD GROUP

Special From Anaheim

Every precaution is being taken to make the Santiago dam, now under construction in Santiago canyon, safe from dangers of floods, it was pointed out by Captain Warren K. Hillyard, county engineer, when he spoke last night at the program for the Santa Ana Toastmasters' meeting held in Ketter's cafe.

"The safety factor will be more than double the capacity for the largest flood that has ever been recorded in the canyon," Hillyard stated.

Other speakers on the program were Frank Humphrey, who talked on "Destructive Competition," Francis Hill who spoke on "Popularity and How to Obtain It," and a craft talk was given by Dean Campbell, Toastmaster for the evening was E. N. Owen, a past president of the club.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and rank and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. When it comes to making the bile flow freely, don't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Send a substitute 20c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

PLANNING PAPER TO RAISE CHURCH FUND

Special From Anaheim

For the purpose of swelling the church building fund, members of the Women's Council of Church of Christ will sponsor a turkey dinner to be given on the evening of November 29, beginning at 5:30 o'clock and lasting until 9 o'clock. It was decided yesterday at the all day meeting of the council in the church bungalow.

Mrs. J. S. Swindler, president, will be in charge of the affair while Mrs. David Carille will have charge of the dining hall. Mrs. Swindler announced that at the next meeting plans would be completed for the dinner and the remaining barrel packed for the Hopi Indians.

The day was spent in quilting with a covered dish luncheon served at noon. One barrel for the Indians was packed yesterday and is to be sent with the other barrel as soon as it is filled.

AUCTION OF ORANGE GROVE OCT. 31

65 Acres near San Bernardino to be offered as a whole and in 8 3/4 to 30 acre parcels.

What is claimed to be one of the finest of the large groves in San Bernardino county—the 65 acres at the southwest corner of Highland and Sterling Aves. in the town of Highland, 3 1/2 miles N. E. of San Bernardino, will be sold at public auction at 2 P. M. on Saturday, October 31, either as a whole or in parcels of from 8 3/4 to 30 acres, according to announcement of Auctioneer A. H. Weil, of 647 S. Oxford, Los Angeles. "I suggest," said Mr. Weil recently, "that everyone interested in the purchase of a magnificent grove at a bargain price, inspect this citrus property. Its superb condition is a delight to every one. The grove has never been seen a grove with a finer future. Of the 65 acres, 7 1/2 acres are 28-year-old Navel and the balance in Valencia, ranging from 5 years old in March to 16 years old. Every tree is selected stock. There are about 6475 trees in all. Of these there are about 4695 five years old next March; about 912 six years old in March and some 871 large trees.

It is my belief that there is no piece of land in San Bernardino county that has any better future than this grove, due to its excellent care and its ideal location at the junction of two major highways, in the famous High-point and orange country. Financial conditions of the owner compel this liquidation at auction on October 31st. All bids will therefore be welcome, as this fortune-making grove must be sold. All I ask is that prospective purchasers inspect the property and I feel they will be as enthusiastic as I am. I suggest a syndicate to buy it if too big for one man."

A very fine modern owner's stucco dwelling and all necessary grove equipment is included in the sale. The water supply is said to be perfect. The well, 100% owned by the ranch, is drilled to solid bedrock. On a continuous pull 75 inches of water at the well can be delivered with a lift of 54 feet. The well has been run continuously for two weeks without any drop in the water which is believed to be about 100 inches. The grove is very convenient to irrigate because of a slight slope. The property is open for inspection daily till date of sale, and the Japanese foreman will show visitors around. Big auction signs are on Highland Avenue on the property. From San Bernardino drive north on E street to Highland then east to Sterling.

Bids will be received on the Grove AS A WHOLE or any one of the FIVE PARCELS, as follows: (All parcels front on Sterling Ave.)

Parcel No. 1—30 Acres at corner of Highland and Sterling Aves. 2357 Valencia, 5 years old in March, 28 acres and 532 Navels, 28 years old.

Parcel No. 2—20 acres, 1,024 Valencia, 5 years old in March.

Parcel No. 3—8 3/4 Acres, 722 Valencia, 5 years old in March. 107 Valencia, 18 years old. Located on the well and fine modern 7-room stucco dwelling.

Parcel No. 4—8 3/4 Acres, 588 Valencia, 5 years old in March. 107 Valencia, 18 years old.

Parcel No. 5—8 3/4 Acres, 912 Valencia, 6 years in March.

Buyer of any parcel will be entitled to pre rata share of water for domestic and irrigation purposes from well on Parcel No. 3. All figures are approximate. Date of auction Saturday, October 31st, at 2 P. M. in shape and inspection daily. Drive down today.

TERMS OF SALE (On bids for property as a whole.) Bank of America (L. A.) holds first TD for $27,000 due January 15, 1932. Buyer to assume this TD at 7 1/2% interest. Balance of purchase price in cash or option has been arranged. Balance of 80% cash, 40% 2nd TD at 7 1/2% or all cash.

A circular and map giving complete details can be had at the grove or by writing to A. H. Weil, 647 S. Oxford, Los Angeles, DUNKIRK 1925.

The Case of the Missing Sandals

By Nancy Barr Mavity

Vincent was hiding on board with the connivance of the captain—the steamship company was going to remove him from his command. The steamship company had nothing to say, except that it had every confidence in Captain Marquand, who had acted entirely within his rights in refusing to stop the vessel to allow the police on board. The body of Vincent had been washed ashore, drowned. The body was that of a man who had been dead at least two weeks.

Peter ripped a sheet of paper from the carriage of the typewriter, marked it "Add Vincent," and laid it on Jimmy's desk.

"I guess that'll hold 'em till tomorrow," he said. "I'd better go out to the old man's house and check the handwriting on that suicide note."

"We ought to have a statement from him for tomorrow's first run, anyhow," Jimmy agreed.

Now that the last edition had gone to press, he had time to look at Peter. The reporter's black hair stood up in all directions, where the are of the telephone head piece had caught it. There were dark smudges under his eyes, and his skin was sallow with fatigue.

"Have any lunch?" he asked curtly.

"The copy boy brought me a sandwich."

"Any breakfast?"

"Sure. The boy lugged in coffee and a hamburger."

"And Lord!" Peter's slouching form pulled itself suddenly erect. He lurched back to his desk and seized the telephone, at the same time thrusting his fingers into his waistcoat pocket. The pocket was empty.

"Barbara!"

"Darling, don't shout so. I can hear you." Barbara's voice was sweet and clear as spring water.

"My Lord, I've gone and done it now. Barbara, I forgot all about our anniversary. I forgot to let you know. Good God—"

"Some day the telephone company's going to come around and disconnect our service if you swear like that."

"There was a ripple of laughter in Barbara's serene tones. "Honestly, dear, it's nothing to get excited over. Mr. Sears telephoned me last evening in plenty of time."

"He did? Jimmy remembered to let you know? Well, I'll—be—d—"

He had forgotten—and Jimmy had remembered. Jimmy had thought nothing of yanking him away from his wedding anniversary, but he had thought to tell Barbara, so that she should not worry. Peter's voice was very small indeed as he spoke again into the transmitter.

"But, Barbara," he said, "that isn't all. I bought you a present—a fifty-dollar present. I had it in my pocket, and I've lost it. It may be somewhere on that d—boat, or it may be at the bottom of the bay. Anyway, it's gone."

There was a moment's tense silence, during which Peter's long face became more and more woe-begone. Barbara had overlooked a lot, but there were things no woman could be expected to forgive.

That present—it was one thing to make Barbara laugh at the way he had thrown his cap over the windmill in defiance of the budget, and quite another thing to have that budget disrupted with nothing to show for it.

And he had forgotten her—forgotten her completely. She would have had the candles all set out on the table—and then it had returned to Jimmy, almost a stranger so far as Barbara was concerned, to show her the consideration her own husband had lacked.

"Peter! Are you there?"

"I'm here," Peter answered miserably.

"Then listen."

Barbara's voice was vibrant; and—yes—there was that subtle undercurrent of laughter in it, the tone he loved best of all.

"I never thought it was going to be easy to be married to a newspaper man, but I didn't think I'd live to be married to a newspaper man that groveled. Stop groveling this instant! I think it was sweet of you to get me the present, and I don't care if you did lose it."

"But Barbara, I did forget. There's no use saying I'm sorry—"

"Peter! Peter! If you'd thought about a little thing like a wife when you were a newspaper man, I don't mind having married a newspaper man, but I'd simply loathe marrying a bum one."

"I read your story, Peter. I ran down to the corner and grabbed every edition the minute it came out. You've got to find Vincent. If any other paper gets him, I'll simply sit down and howl!"

Fatigue dropped from Peter like a mask stripped from his face as he hung up the receiver. There were fools who said that women lived only for a personal emotion and were jealously insulted if a man let his work come first even for a moment.

And there was Barbara, not caring that he'd forgotten her, brushing aside the dismal anti-climax of the expensive wedding anniversary present he had bought and lost. He was an addle-pated fizzle as a husband and Barbara didn't care. But she'd care if he got beaten on the story.

Would he find Vincent? At least he'd make one grand stab at finding out what had happened to him, or know the reason why?

CHAPTER VIII

For the first time in many days—the first time since Jimmy had given him the news of Luna's death—Peter's exit from the local room was accompanied by the piercing strains of a wailing minor tune.

"Hoo-o-o-o, hu-hu-hu-hoo!" The high, dismal whistle brought protesting hands to the ears of the staff.

"Hell's bells!" Jimmy grunted.

"The kid's been going all day and all night, and he's just getting into his stride."

When Peter, still whistling, steered the rattling Bossy to the curb in front of the small frame house

Register Water Program

THE GREATEST SIGNIFICANCE

1. THAT ORANGE COUNTY, OR AS MUCH OF THE COUNTY AS IS WILLING TO DO SO, SHALL BECOME A PART OF THE METROPOLITAN WATER DISTRICT. WITH THE COUNTY IN AS A WHOLE, THIS WOULD INSURE, IN ACRE FEET.....	79,200
2. THAT WATER NOW BEING WASTED THROUGH EVAPORATION AND TRANSPIRATION IN THE PRADO BASIN SHALL BE SAVED. THIS WOULD GIVE US IN ACRE FEET.....	20,000
3. THAT SEWAGE WATER FROM THE CITIES SHALL BE SALVAGED AND RECLAIMED FOR USE IN IRRIGATION, WHICH WOULD GIVE IN ACRE FEET.....	5,700
4. THAT ORANGE COUNTY FLOOD CONTROL PROGRAM SHALL BE PUT INTO EFFECT, WHICH WOULD GIVE IN ACRE FEET.....	39,660
TOTAL, IN ACRE FEET.....	144,560

NOT A SIMPLE PROBLEM

The Interstate Commerce Commission has had a most difficult problem before it in the question of the increase of railroad rates. And they have met this problem by proposing an increase in rates on certain kinds of freight, or may we say, certain specified goods, and left it off others.

The farm products of the Middle West, such as wheat, corn, oats, barley, rye, rice, and other grains, which includes their products, such as wheat flour, corn meal, and other edible flour can be moved without any increase. There is an increase of $3.00 per car on coal, iron ore and coke, stone products and furnace slag. And a $6.00 increase per car on phosphate rock, sulphur, pig iron, and scrap iron.

Citrus fruit, cantaloupe melons, etc., mostly the products of this great Southwest, have an increase of one cent per hundred pounds, which is but 20 cents per ton. This applies to many other things, as refined petroleum oils and gasoline.

It will probably be charged by some that there is a certain amount of discrimination, which might even go to the question of legality under this proposed plan. The purpose of request by the railroads of an increase of 15 per cent in their freight rates has been, so the railroad directors have declared, to be to take care of interest on bonds and the bonds themselves, in due time.

Some of the railroads have sufficient earnings to do this, but many of them have not, and some plan such as this, it is held by the Interstate Commerce Commission, would aid these roads through a pooling arrangement, whereby the roads that need it particularly, receive more of the benefit.

The railroads are certainly in a difficult situation, and while it is beyond human nature to be willing to suffer personal loss to help great public utilities out, yet certainly for the good of the country, the railroads at this time need support, and that support should be forthcoming, if it is possible for it to be done.

It is a serious question with the competition of trucks, whether the 15 per cent increase, even if it had been granted, would not have meant such a large decrease in gross business that it might have meant a final net decrease. The railroad leaders themselves have been in doubt about this, and they certainly have in the past few years applied every device for economy imaginable, and have kept up net earnings, in spite of a falling off in gross tonnage and income. The Interstate Commerce Commission declares in respect to this:

The plan outlined, we estimate, will produce between $100,000,000 and $125,000,000 increased revenue on the basis of present traffic if applied both State and interstate. This should cover deficiencies in interest on fixed interest obligations with a substantial balance left over. The above estimate does not include increases in revenue which should accrue to the carriers during the coming year from the outstanding orders of the commission which have been mentioned above.

We hope that this method or some other method equally or more profitable can be worked out, for we are confident it will be found, as it has been found in certain localities, that the abandoning of certain unprofitable roads, and maybe the cutting of costs to inefficient service, means an irreparable loss to the people of the community who have been served by the roads.

OF A SURETY

There is one thing that can be depended upon in the next Congress, and that is that there will hardly be a dull moment in Washington, from the beginning of the session to the end.

This is true because nearly everyone in the country has a remedy for the situation in the world, and they know just exactly what Congress should do about it. This includes nearly all of the Congressmen themselves. On behalf of the plans which will be presented under these conditions, there will be a firmness of spirit and an intensity of conviction, which is likely to divide forces out in the Congressional districts and in the national campaigns.

There is not a tariff scheduled on any article that some will not believe it will help the conditions to boost, while others thoroughly believe that it would be for the common good to remove it entirely.

How President Hoover would enjoy changing jobs with Will Rogers! The responsibility for doing things is so much more serious and nerve-racking than the job of commenting on it or talking about it.

It is uncertain at this writing what the council of the League of Nations will do today in respect to Japan in Manchuria. The disturbing news comes from Japan that in case the League of Nations makes a demand upon Japan to vacate Manchuria on a date definite, that she will withdraw from the League of Nations.

There is little question, if this should result, that it will have a most unfortunate effect on the disarmament conference that is scheduled to meet this coming February. And yet, if the nations should all hang together, with the exception of Japan, it might be the means of cementing them, because of other considerations, much more securely than would be the case should they pursue the even tenor of their way until February.

The question is even more serious than the disarmament conference, in a way, as important as the disarmament conference is, for it is a test of the League of Nations itself. If they surrender through the fear of the withdrawal of Japan today, they will surrender through the fear of the withdrawal of France or England or Italy tomorrow. This would mean in its finality that the League of Nations is powerless except in those cases where the interests of all of the "Big Five" are identical with the desires of the council.

This would mean a meaningless and worthless League, for it would simply indicate that which has been charged against it by its enemies from the beginning—that it was a club to be used upon the smaller powers. The leaders of the League of Nations in Geneva certainly must be fully aware of this, and we believe most of them are absolutely sincere. Hence we venture the hope that they will take their stand for what they believe to be just and fair in the interest of world peace, regardless of what Japan threatens to do, and leave Japan to take the consequences, and be "holding the sack" in whatever develops.

In the last analysis, we are confident that Japan would not make good her threat. She could not afford to array herself against the united world, either economically or otherwise. The rumor has been issued, that the United States has assured Japan that they would not participate in an economic boycott. It is to be hoped that this is not true, for as one observer in Geneva stated, in commenting on that declaration: "What is the reason for throwing away your strongest card before beginning the game?", and diplomacy is the game.

It might be well for our readers to have in mind the provisions of the initial draft of the resolution that the "Big Five" expected to submit to the council. They included:

1. Immediate beginning of Japanese evacuation.
2. Negotiations between Japan and China without participation of any neutrals.
3. Direct negotiations to regulate details of evacuation and protection of Japanese nationals.
4. Three weeks interim in which the council would be considered permanently in session.
5. Japan and China to report to the council immediately after completion of Japan's evacuation.

China, however, in her demands asked for the immediate evacuation of Manchuria, a neutral investigation during and after the evacuation, a recognition of China's rights to reparations for damages, and the establishment of a permanent Sino-Japanese board of conciliation and arbitration.

Banana Destroyers
Christian Science Monitor

Hardly in a dozen moons has there been seen in print a small news item possessed of so much meaning as that proceeding from New Orleans telling of four destroyers which a steamship company purchased from the American Government and has converted into Diesel-powered carriers designed to ply between Tobasco, Mexico, and New Orleans with cargoes, not of marines, not of munitions, not of supplies of war, but of—bananas!

It is a captivating story, with a slightly ironical slant which adds to its piquancy—this casual, unsuspecting recital of a commercial transaction. Four great formidable hulks of steel, fashioned for the exclusive purpose of destruction, today are assiduously plowing along an 840-mile route at the quite respectable speed of 15-12 knots, dedicated to the task of bringing bananas to the American public.

The situation transcends that of the aged thoroughbred reduced to hauling a peddler's cart. For we have here a pretty paradox: degradation has produced exaltation. It is, at first blush, a very sad spectacle: the mighty have fallen, the proud (and just why should ships of war be always "proud") destroyers are reduced to menial work. Whereas, as a matter of fact, banana carrying has put four instruments of destruction, of sheer waste, to constructive work, that of transporting a popular appetizing fruit.

As a practical variation of beating swords into plowshares, the example might well be emulated.

By All Means, Let Gandhi Come
San Francisco Chronicle

Gandhi hesitated about coming to the United States when he was assured by his friend, Rev. John Haynes Holmes that the American public would regard him as a freak and refuse to take him seriously.

Dr. Holmes has probably misread his countrymen's mind. The American people have been amused by Gandhi's costume and his goats. But they know that the leader of nearly 300,000,000 people in a great historic crisis is to be taken seriously.

Had Dr. Holmes attended an American movie theater on an opportune date he might have discovered a sympathetic attitude on the part of the audience meeting Mr. Gandhi on the news reel.

The little man's answers to the interviewer's questions showed a keen intelligence, a sincerity and a lively sense of humor illuminated by his merry twinkle. . . . The public would hardly be slower in discovering Gandhi's substantial qualities when meeting him in person.

The mahatma thinks he would enjoy a visit to the United States. The American people would enjoy having him here. It will be a loss all around if Dr. Holmes' misapprehension keeps the mahatma away.

A REFLECTION

The tiny chicken, beady eyed
With fluff all over his outside

And its ingenuous baby ways
Excites our wonder and our praise.

But when a rooster or a hen,
Alas, it's something else again.

The lamb, when gamboling on the lawn
Is beautiful to look upon.

We love to watch it leap and bound
And on stiff legs to hop around.

But when it's grown to full sheep size
It has small merit in our eyes.

Sad that these creatures of the farm
When youth is past should lose their charm.

And it may be that they reflect
That we, despite our intellect

And grown up dignity and poise,
Were best as little girls and boys
And leave a bird or beast quite cold
When passing years have made us old.
They may not think this; but they might
And if they did they'd be quite right.

"GETTING GOING"

I suppose that what to do is the most important problem every young man or woman has to solve.

Few colleges undertake to decide for them, though I know of one or two which make an endeavor to find out what boys and girls are bet fitted for and to educate them with a view to their purpose in life.

That is helpful, of course. Yet hundreds of men and women who have earned wealth and reputation began their working lives in activities far different from those they turned to later.

General Leonard Wood, an able fighting man in the Spanish war and later an able administrator in Cuba, began his career as an army doctor.

He was preceded as chief administrative officer of the United States army by General Sinaworth, another army doctor.

Nether of these men got squared away on his life voyage until he was well over forty.

Both had wrong starts, yet they learned self-discipline and methods of study in their early careers, which stood them in good stead later on.

Mark Twain, as all the world knows, turned from one job to another—mined for gold, and served as a newspaper reporter—before he took up literature as a profession.

H. G. Wells, who apparently is qualified to write everything from novels to philosophy, world history and science, describes himself in one of his books as an ex-counter jumper.

It is important, of course, to get the right start.

If you do not like your work and feel that you are not fitted for it, watch for the first chance to get some job you do like, even if you have to begin for smaller pay.

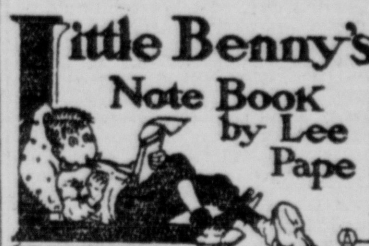

Never forget that to do anything out of the ordinary in this world, where so much has been done, requires special ability and more than special industry.

It means working days and nights, and it means devoting a lot of time to what may seem dull drudgery.

I do not believe that everybody in the world has an equal chance; there is a great deal of mental and physical inequality. But from my own observation I am convinced that the determined youngster will outstrip many of his mental superiors who lack determination.

Get the right start if you can. If you can't, keep your eyes open for some other kind of opportunity. If you look for it long enough you will find it.

Meanwhile whatever you may be doing will sharpen your wits and increase your knowledge of human nature.

Sunday morning just after breakfast just before lunchtime pop sat down in the living room with the Sunday paper on his lap, and he started to pick up the different parts of it to decide which part to read first, and he picked up the financial part and threw it on the floor, saying, "When the cat's away the mice will play."

Meaning when ma is home she never leaves him throw the Sunday paper over the floor on account of her having to pick it up unless she's satisfied to see it laying there, with she never is, and pop kept on throwing different parts of it on the floor with a happy expression, such as the real estate part and ladies fashions part and the automobile part, throwing some of them over his head and some in back of him and some in front of him.

Making the floor look as if it has been snowing newspapers, and pop put his feet up and started to read the sporting part, being the only part left, and every once in a while he looked over the top of it and around the sides of it at all the paper on the floor, saying, "By golly I'm haunted."

How do you mean, pop? I said, and he said, "I'm haunted by the idea that I'll have to pick all that up again with my own white hands. Of course I could order a slave to do it, such as yourself, but I've seen newspapers after you've picked them up and it's a spectacle I don't care to witness again, so sooner or later I'll have to undo all my good work myself, and the thawt keeps obtruding itself most unpleasantly."

And he kept on reading the sporting page and looking down at the floor nervously, and after a while he said, "O blazes I mite as well pick them up now and get it off my mind."

Which he did, looking like somebody that was pretty near having their whole Sunday morning spoiled.

Proving its no fun being sloppy if you're only making more work for yourself instead of for somebody else.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

LIBERALISM OUT OF CONSERVATISM

The paradox of progress in the machine age is that liberalism cannot succeed without the support of the conservatives.

The politico-social reformer alone cannot correct the manifold maladjustments of our machine economy and make it a mainstay instead of a menace to a sound and satisfying social order.

Reform in one important respect is like revolution.

Revolution never quite succeeds in any sweeping sense until it captures the army, for it must have power back of its principles.

In like manner political or social reform, if it is to be realistically effective, must be the ally, not the antagonist, of technical advance and economic power.

And, happily, circumstances are maturing, I think, under which the holders of economic power will realize that it is to their interest to have the forces of science and technology directed by principles that make for a humanistic social order.

As the complexity and interdependence of our machine economy increases, and as large-scale industry becomes further dependent upon the confidence and economic capacity of the consuming masses, sound social policy will more and more prove the surest support of legitimate self-interest for the industrialist.

This fact may result in a surprising shift in the relative positions of the reformers and the reactionaries.

The army of reform has hitherto been recruited, mainly from men outside the ranks of industrial management and economic power, that is to say, from side-liners.

In the main, the owners and operators of the industrial system have been an ultra-conservative force consistently resisting what again and again has proved sound politico-economic reform.

These conservative captains of the machine order, like the liberals in opposition, acquired stereotyped dogmas and fell into the habit of standardized reactions to social criticism and social change.

Tomorrow I shall speak of what the impact of the current economic depression is likely to mean in effecting a possible change in the positions of those who have been reformers and of those who have been reactionaries. (Copyright, 1931, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE DIFFICULT MEMBER

"I would like to know what you would do with our Jane. We are at our wits' end. She is a lovely girl, to look at. But she is terrible to live with."

"She seems to hate everybody. The kinder you are to her the surer she is to jump on you and rend you to pieces. She seems to love a scene. I'll give you an instance of it."

"Our great aunt was coming to visit us. We were all excited and delighted. This would be the first visit she had made since the children were born. It would likely be her last as well for she is a very old lady. We were all anxious to put our best foot forward and give Great Aunt Ellen a good time, and a good impression. All but Ellen Jane. You see Jane was named for her great aunt."

"From the minute the news came until Great Aunt Ellen left for home, Jane did everything she could think of to make things unpleasant. She appeared in a soiled dress when Great aunt arrived. She scowled through every meal. She didn't want to do anything anybody else suggested. She capped the climax by shouting out across the room one evening. 'You're all trying to show off. Well, I'm not. Great Aunt Ellen can like me or lump me for all I care.' Then she stamped out of the room and off to bed where she cried herself to sleep. What can we do with such a child?"

Something, perhaps. Nothing, maybe. But I'd make a good trial before I gave up. Take the child who behaves like that to the best nurse specialist, the best gland expert, the best eye man, down the list of specialists and see if any one of them can find what is wrong and mend it. Mental health depends largely upon physical health. It is plain that this sort of child is in poor mental health. Search for the cause, and if possible, remove it.

Keep your temper and your patience as long as you can. It is very difficult to live with such a person but after all she is not wholly to blame. Some blame is attached to her. Once she expresses the bad feeling that possesses her it is easier to express it next time and she takes a wilful pleasure in annoying other people. Habit helps error. But it also helps good. Think as kindly and as hopefully as you can about this sort of child and hold her to as high a standard as you can manage.

Rest the family and the child as frequently as you can by letting her go on visits, trips, camp during vacation, boarding school and the like. A change of environment, a change of people, scene, occupation, help such nerve-wrecked children.

They offer as much as the family does and more. Get what medical or surgical help you can for such a one. Then routine her day. A set routine soothes aching nerves. It helps avoid argument and occasion for tantrums. It is hard to hold a child to her schedule but it is harder to cope with hourly outbursts which are bound to occur if the child is left to her own resources.

I think Jane knew how sore-thumbish she was and dreaded Aunt Ellen's coming and knowing it too. Her conduct was defensive. When this happens send your Jane for a visit to someone she likes. There is no good trying to force her to an expression she cannot feel. (Copyright, 1931, The Bell Synd., Inc.)

INVASION OF RIGA

On Oct. 22, 1917, the Germans carried their invasion in the Gulf of Riga to the mainland by seizing the Werder Peninsula.

This strip of land is opposite Moon Island, where the Germans appeared the day before. The village of Werder was taken by the Germans. This village is about 25 miles south of Hapsal. The Russians, swept before the invasion, started to evacuate Revel.

Meantime British and French attacks in Belgium in the neighborhood of Poelcapelle, and south of Houtholst Forest were reported by Field Marshal Haig as "highly successful." All the objectives were captured.

Lloyd George, speaking in Albert Hall, London, said: "There will be no peace in the world until the shrine of the war spirit in Potsdam is shattered and its priesthood is dispersed and discredited forever."

WHEN THE ELECTRIC LIGHT BILL ARRIVES IT'S ALWAYS A CURRENT TOPIC OF CONVERSATION!

Time To Smile

A FREAK

FATHER: That young man who called on you last night should be on exhibition at a side-show.

DAUGHTER: Why, father, what do you mean?

FATHER: As I passed through the hall I noticed he had two heads on his shoulders.—Pathfinder.

FITTING THE TYPE

SALESMAN: And what kind of motor-horn would you like, sir? Do you care for a good loud blast?

HAUGHTY INDIVIDUAL: No. I want something that just sneers! —The Humorist.
